REFORMED PRESBYTERIAN SYNOD.

NEW YORK, May 22, 1872.

METHODIST GENERAL CONFERENCE.

At the Methodist General Conference this morning the balloting for the three additional Bishops was continued, and at ten o'clock the tellers retired to count the votes. Meantime a discussion took place in reference to the reports of Class-leaders. At eleven o'clock the tellers returned and announced the vote as follows: E. G. Andrews, 236; Gilbert Haven, 209. These two were declared elected. Ballots were then cast for the remaining Bishop.

At 12 o'clock the tellers announced the vote for the remaining Bishop. Jesse T. Peek, of New York, received 205 votes, and was declared elected. This concluded the election of Bishops.

LONDON PRESS ON THE TREATY OF WASHINGTON.

A London special says the English papers continue to discuss the treaty of Washington and the supplementary article with undiminished interest. The editorials are generally inspired by a desire to prevent the failure of the arbitration and save the treaty. An article in a contrary sense in the Pall Mall Gazette says, "The whole drift of feeling and opinion in England justifies saying that the worst thing to do with the treaty is to save it. Saving the treaty means offense and humiliation to America or England, or both nations. It means the renewal and not the abatement of the ill-feeling it was intended to allay. How to save the treaty means who shall eat the leek, or whether means cannot be invented whereby both parties shall agree to eat it in each other's presence. American papers appear to exclaim against the adoption of the supplementary article. Here there is only one opinion: that its acceptance would be discreditable and dangerous. Both peoples would be pacified and content at once if the treaty and the negotiations connected therewith would be dropped as an irremediable blunder, for which the two Governments are alone to blame. That is the proper fate of the treaty and the only safe and peaceful way of disposing of it."

REFORMED PRESBYTERIAN SYNOD.

The Reformed Presbyterian Synod reassembled this morning. The question for the day's devotional exercises, "How can the Church influence the community at large to perform aright their several duties," was amended by the addition of the words "and promote the sanctification of the Sabbath."

Various reports were received and adopted. The report of the Special Committee on Church Property in the Philadelphia Presbytery was presented.

Dr. Wilson moved its acceptance and adoption.

Rev. Mr. Boll objected to the report in its present shape, and dissented from its adoption in its present form.

Dr. Steele said he knew all about the lamentable state of affairs in Philadelphia touching the property now in litigation, the details of which have from time to time been laid before the public, and it had been utterly impossible to bring about any compromise whatever.

The debate on this subject, which is equivalent to the Book Concern wrangle of the Methodists, was continued for nearly two hours, and participated in by all the prominent members. Without action, adjourned.

THE LABOR QUESTION.

The excitement among the workingmen of this city still continues, although the demands of the carpenters, masons, brick-layers and plumbers have been agreed to. The pattern makers, cabinet makers, upholsterers and sash makers are holding hourly sessions, with every prospect of success.

The laborers who have worked on the new postoffice are about to take steps to obtain pay for the two extra hours they have worked since the passage of the eight hour law.

The rumor of yesterday that the carpenters intend to strike for four dollars a day is gaining credence, as they have not gone to work, and their committee is still in secret session.

Some of the German cabinet makers, upholsterers and furniture manufacturers held meetings to-day and resolved to resist any arrangements to abridge a day's labor, while others have granted the demand of the men for the eight hour rule.

The sash and blind makers are to return to work to-morrow on the eight hour system in all the shops except two, the proprietors of which hold out for the old system.

KIDNAPPING.

This morning three men representing themselves as Deputy Sheriffs, went to the house of Mrs. Steinart and took away a little girl named Pauline Dobrinski, who was left in charge of Mrs. Steinart by the father of the child. As no Deputy Sheriff had orders to take the girl, it is believed she was taken by friends of the mother.

SEYMOUR AND THE CINCINNATI NOMINEES.

The World says: The statement which appeared in the Evening Post and Tribune, to the effect that Horatio Seymour approves of the endorsement of the Cincinnati candidates at Baltimore, is incorrect. We have information direct that Governor Seymour declines to express any opinion further than that the Democracy should abide by the decision of the National Convention.

GONE BACK ON WOODHULL.

The meetings of the Woodhull-Douglass party announced to be held at the Grand Opera House, on Friday and Sunday evenings next, will not be held there, the owners of the property declining to allow the use of the house for such a purpose.

STOLEN PAPERS RETURNED.

The Gallatin National Bank received through the mail, commercial paper, drafts and notes amounting to $46,000, of which its messenger was robbed Saturday last, the thieves profiting only eighty-three dollars by the transaction.

W. U. M. S.

The Woman's Union Missionary Society held a meeting today, and was addressed by Dr. Waugh, of India, and Dr. MacKoy. The receipts of the society for this year were $29,077.

ST. LOUIS.

Examination of Dr. Berkley—Premiums for Cotton.

ST. LOUIS, May 22.—In the Berkley case the Court, after taking legal advice, decided to allow the examination of Dr. Berkley in his own defense, and also permitted an examination by experts as to the similarity or identity of the writing of Mrs. Andrews and that of the anonymous letter which the defense calls the blackmailing letter. The contents of this letter have not yet been disclosed, but the defense assert that they expect to show a conspiracy against Berkley, and that it was during a most distracted state of mind, caused by this and other infamous anonymous letters, that the defendent wrote his first letter to Mrs. Andrews, and which has been regarded by many as a virtual admission of the charges against him. Three experts were examined by the defense, all of whom unhesitatingly expressed their belief of the identity of Mrs. Andrews' writing, and that of the blackmailing letter in question.

EDITORIAL EXCURSION.

The Missouri State Editorial Association met at Sedalia to-day, and were welcomed by Mayor Cummings, who was responded to by President Wilkinson. The annual oration was delivered by Prof. J. B. Merwin, of St. Louis, and a poem by J. M. Edwards, of Kansas City. A banquet and ball were given to the association to-night, and to-morrow there will be an excursion to Indian Territory.

EPISCOPAL CONVENTION.

The Twenty-third annual convention of the Episcopal Church, diocese of Missouri, convened in St. George's Church to-day. A large number of clergy and laymen are present. After the transaction of some routine business, including the reception of reports of the Secretary, Treasurer, and standing committees, the Convention adjourned till to-morrow.

PREMIUMS FOR COTTON.

Rev. Dr. Huston's Trial.

BALTIMORE, May 22.—The examination of the charges against Rev. Dr. Huston commenced today. The court is composed of Presiding Elder Rev. Samuel Rogers, Revs. Zimmerman, Headsplander, Carson, and another, whose name has not been ascertained. At the opening of the court a proposition to admit Samuel Snowden as counsel for Dr. Huston was rejected, and B. Eldridge moved that a theological student be admitted as counsel. The case commenced with an examination of the servant girl, Virginia Hopkins. The proceedings are secret.

CONGRESS.

Civil Rights, Amnesty and Habeas Corpus.

DISCUSSION IN THE HOUSE.

Another Investigation on the Tapis.

WASHINGTON, May 22, 1872.

SENATE.

HABEAS CORPUS SUSPENSION.

There was an all night session of the Senate. A spirited personal debate occurred between Messrs. Conkling, Thurman and Casserly.

The habeas corpus suspension bill was passed about four o'clock in the morning. The vote was as follows:

Yeas—Messrs. Ames, Anthony, Boreman, Carpenter, Caldwell, Chandler, Clayton, Conkling, Cole, Corbett, Edmunds, Ferry, Flanagan, Frelinghuysen, Hamlin, Logan, Morrill (Me.), Morrill (Vt.), Nye, Osborn, Patterson, Pomeroy, Pool, Pratt, Robertson, Sawyer, Scott and Spencer. Total, 28.

Nays—Messrs. Alcorn, Bayard, Blair, Casserly, Cooper, Davis (W. Va.), Hamilton (Md.), Johnson, Kelley, Ransom, Saulsburg, Sprague, Stevenson, Thurman and Vickers. Total, 15.

Messrs. Cameron, Cragin, Morton and Wilson, who would have voted aye, were paired with Messrs. Hill, Staunton, Norwood and Schurz, who would have voted nay.

CIVIL RIGHTS.

The Senate then, by an arrangement between the Democrats and Republicans, took up the supplemental civil rights bill offered by Mr. Carpenter. It is like Mr. Sumner's, but not applying to schools, cemeteries or juries, and it was passed by the following vote:

Yeas—Messrs. Ames, Anthony, Caldwell, Cameron, Carpenter, Chandler, Clayton, Cole, Conkling, Corbett, Cragin, Ferry (Michigan), Flanagan, Frelinghuysen, Hamlin, Logan, Morrill (Vermont), Nye, Osborn, Patterson, Pool, Robertson, Sawyer, Scott, Sprague, Wilson and Wright. Total, 27.

Nays—Messrs. Bayard, Blair, Casserly, Cooper, Davis (W. Va.), Hamilton, (Md.), Johnston, Kelley, Norwood, Ransom, Saulsbury, Stevenson, Thurman and Vickers. Total, 14.

AMNESTY.

The House amnesty bill was passed—yeas, 38; nays, 2. Messrs. Nye and Sumner voted nay, the latter declaring himself in favor of amnesty, but voting against the bill because the Senate rejected his original civil rights bill, which he had offered as an amendment.

At 10:20 A. M. the Senate adjourned until three o'clock P. M.

The Senate reassembled at 3 o'clock.

SUPPLEMENTAL APPORTIONMENT BILL.

On motion of Mr. EDMUNDS, the Senate proceeded to the consideration of the supplemental apportionment bill, which gives an additional representative to the several States who have a large fraction.

Mr. HITCHCOCK moved to add Nebraska as entitled to an additional representative.

The amendment was rejected and the bill passed.

EXECUTIVE BUSINESS.

The Senate proceeded to the consideration of executive business.

Mr. TRUMBULL, from the Committee on Judiciary, reported without amendment the House bill to prevent certain United States officers from practicing in United States Courts in certain cases; to amend the criminal proceedings of the act of March 31, 1865, and to provide for holding a United States Circuit Court in the Western District of Missouri; also with an amendment, the House bill amendatory of the act establishing the Department of Justice.

Mr. HOWE, from the Committee on Claims, reported without amendment a bill for the relief of Connecticut and other States; also the House bill to pay the award of the Southern Claims Commissioners, with an amendment striking out appropriations for a few small claims.

The Senate adjourned.

HOUSE.

REPORTS PRESENTED.

Mr. SARGENT presented the majority report and Mr. BLAIR (Michigan) the minority report of the select committee on charges against the Secretary of the Navy.

RIGHT OF WAY OVER BRIDGE.

Mr. HOLMAN, from the Committee on Commerce, reported back the Senate amendments to the House bill granting to the Davenport and St. Paul Railroad the right of way over the Rock Island bridge. Concurred in.

THE AMNESTY BILL.

The Speaker presented the House Amnesty bill of May 13th with an endorsement of its passage by the Senate by the requisite two-thirds vote. He directed the bill to be read in full, because the question was raised whether it required the approval of the President.

Mr. BINGHAM contended that it did, and a colloquy ensued between the Speaker and members.

The Speaker finally stated that he was informed by the clerk that all amnesty bills heretofore passed were sent to the President for his signature.

Mr. RANDALL inquired how a matter would stand if the President should not sign the bill?

The Speaker—That is the question for Congress, not the Chair. It is the duty of the Chair to follow the precedents and practices of the House. It is purely a ministerial duty on his part, and does not involve any constitutional question.

Mr. RANDALL—I have not the least objection if it will gratify the Republican party that the President shall sign the amnesty bill at the eleventh hour.

Mr. BINGHAM—Especially after the President recommending amnesty in his message.

Mr. BECK—I desire to submit a resolution on that point.

The Speaker declined to entertain it.

Mr. BECK—By what authority does the Speaker send the bill to the President?

The Speaker—Because all other like bills have been sent to him. The Clerk informs the Chair that the practice has been usual and universal.

Mr. BECK—That may be so.

The Speaker—Then why should the Chair assume to change the practice of the House?

Mr. BECK—Why not let the House express its opinion on that point?

The Speaker—If there is unanimous consent the Chair will submit the question.

Mr. BINGHAM—I object.

The Speaker—Then the Chair cannot entertain it as a question of privilege.

Mr. COX—I rise to a parliamentary question. I would like, if possible, to avoid complication on this matter. Suppose the President should retain this bill for ten days, until both Houses shall have adjourned, what effect would that have on it?

The Speaker—That is not a parliamentary point. It is not for the Speaker of the House to answer questions as to the probable course of the President of the United States.

Mr. COX—I want to avoid trouble on this mater.

The Speaker—There will not be any.

Mr. COX—I want the amnesty bill adopted.

Mr. RANDALL moved that Mr. Rogers, of North Carolina, a member elect whose disabilities are removed by this bill, be sworn in.

The Speaker stated that that brought up the same question in a different shape, and he declined to entertain the motion.

Mr. DAWES expressed regret that all anxiety for the amnesty bill seemed to be changed to solicitude lest the President should approve the bill.

Mr. RANDALL—There is no such issue at all.

The Speaker replied that precedents had been to send such bills to the President, and he would, therefore, wait to swear in Rogers until it was passed. He would give it as his opinion, however, that the House would not have to wait very long.

ANOTHER INVESTIGATION.

Mr. GARFIELD offered a resolution quoting statements from Mr. Farnsworth's speech of yesterday against Mr. Mullett, Supervising Architect of the Treasury, and ordering that the Secretary of the Treasury be informed of the charges so made, and requested to cause the sale to be investigated, and to take such action thereon as the result of such investigation shall require.

After a long discussion, the resolution was adopted, with an amendment offered by Mr. FARNSWORTH directing the Secretary of the Treasury to report specific answers to the charges made in Mr. Farnsworth's remarks.

The House then went into Committee of the Whole on the Sundry Civil Apportionment bill. Having progressed as far at the forty-second page of the bill, which contains fifty-three pages, the Committee rose. The House then adjourned.

OBERLIN.

Anti-Secret Society Convention.

OBERLIN, O., May 22.—The Anti-Secret Convention met at eight o'clock this morning, and spent two hours in business matters, after which, according to previous appointment, the meeting adjourned and resolved itself into a mass convention of persons opposed to secret societies, for the purpose of considering the advisability of taking national political action. Speeches were limited to five minutes, and Judge Parish, of Sandusky, was called to the Chair.

Mr. Pomeroy, of Syracuse, New York, presented a petition from farmers of Ontario county, desiring that no Presidential nomination should be made. Following this was a spirited discussion on the question of national political action.

The convention then took a recess until seven P. M., when the discussion will be resumed.

Prominent among the candidates are Hon. Philo Carpentor, of Illinois; Rev. A. Crooks, of Syracuse; Rev. John Levington, of Michigan; Hon. Geo. Dietrich, of Normal, Illinois; R. M. Chester, of Cincinnati; President Allen, of Westfield College, Illinois; and Dr. J. A. Bingham, of Medina, Ohio.

Carter, of Illinois, fell from below the fore top sail yard arm, striking the rigging in his fall into the water. Midshipmen R. H. McLean, of New York, and R. W. Galt, of Virginia, jumped overboard after him, and kept him afloat until all were rescued by a boat. Carter was badly bruised, but it is thought he sustained no serious injuries.

He is especially censured for securing for himself and officers exemptions from the conditions imposed upon his enlisted men by the German commander to whom he surrendered.

WAR CONTRACTS.

VERSAILLES, May 22.—In the Assembly to-day the debate on the interpellation of the Government with regard to war contracts was continued.

M. Audiffret Pasquier replied with severity to M. Rouher, and vindicated his own exposure of the corruptions under the Empire. He vigorously denounced Napoleon, and called on the Empire, in the language of Augustus, to restore to France her legions, her provinces, and her glory.

The members of the Assembly and the crowds in the galleries were greatly excited, and repeatedly interrupted the speaker with passionate outbursts of applause.

M. Rouher followed with a speech of two hours' duration, which was listened to with impatience, and is pronounced unequal to the occasion.

M. Gambetta then rose, and made a violent and bitter attack on the Empire.

The audience was remarkbly quiet, and although deep interest was manifested, the speaker received little or no applause.

With M. Gambetta's speech the debate closed and the sitting adjourned.

CUBA.

ENGLISH SCHOONER CAPTURED.

HAVANA, May 22.—The Spanish gunboat Bestellon captured the English schooner William Jullas at Savana La Mar, and brought her to Neuvities. COLUMBUS.

The Garner Murder Case.

COLUMBUS, O., May 22.—The Garner murder trial to-day drew out a large crowd of spectators. Several witnesses were examined, among them the Sheriff of Madison county, who testified seeing Barclay at the hotel in London on the evening of the day of the murder. He was dressed in the same clothes he had on in this city on the day of the murder, but was registered as John Davis of Springfield. Then he had a full light beard. He next saw him some days after, when his beard was shaved off.

The teller of the Madison National Bank of Madison county testified that on the day after the murder Barclay exchanged at the bank large bills for small, and then deposited two hundred dollars in the name of John Barclay, but drew it out the same day.

Dr. Platt, who assisted in the attendance on Garner during his last illness, testified that Garner told him he had been struck three times with a hammer.

Another witness testified to seeing Garner just after he was struck, and was told by Garner that he had got a hard blow with a hammer.

Two physicians who attended Garner before his death testified that in their opinion the wounds on Garner's head were inflicted with some blunt, smooth instrument like a hammer or hatchet.

Other witnesses were examined, but no very new points were elicited.

DETROIT.

Presbyterian General Assembly.

DETROIT, May 22.—A very successful meeting in behalf of the Home Mission was held last night. A crowded audience was held together to a late hour.

This morning the discussion on the demission of the ministry was resumed. Addresses were made by Dr. Humphrey, Dr. McKenney and others.

The assembly has acted this afternoon on the report of the special committee on benevolence and finance. Provision has been made for a committee of fifteen, to be located in the city of New York, whose treasurer shall be the treasurer of the Board of Home Missions. To these the treasurers of the churches shall be at liberty to send their benevolent funds for distribution. Much difference of opinion was anticipated upon this subject, but the views of most of the assembly were harmonized by the propositions of the judiciary committee, and Dr. Musgrave, in a happy speech, prepared the way for a speedy adjustment of a question that might have proved vexatious.

Dr. Elmwood has made a grand speech on foreign missions, and the assembly has listened with interest to Dr. Warren and other missionaries from the foreign field. The report on foreign missions was then adopted.

ALBANY.

The Court of Impeachment.

ALBANY, May 22.—The Court of Impeachment met this afternoon. Judge Barnard was present in person and by his counsel, Wm. A. Beach. At the desire of the latter, time was given for the preparation of a special plea for defense, and the court adjourned to Saratoga, July 17th. Judges Allan and Peckham previously asked to be excused from sitting in court, for the reason of their connection as counsel with the proceedings embraced in two of the articles, but the request was refused.

THE STEAMBOAT BILL.

The committee of conference appointed by Congress on the so-called Steamboat bill, met last evening and held a whole night session. The discussion was lively and animated. The obnoxious amendments attached to the bill in the Senate were non-concurred in, and as originally introduced it will probably pass, which will be good news to those interested.

GOVERNMENT BUILDING SITE IN PITTSBURGH.

Gen. Negley, by persistent efforts has secured an affirmative report from the Committee on Public Property in favor of the appropriation of $300,000 to Pittsburgh for a site for new government buildings. The report will undoubtedly be approved by both houses and the Commission will at once be designated from among your own citizens to make the selection.

THE STEAMER VIRGINIUS—OFFICIAL REPORT.

An official report to the Navy Department of Lieutenant Commander White, of the United States steamer Kansas, in relation to the departure of the steamer Virginius from the harbor of Aspinwall and the means taken by his vessel to enforce respect for the flag under which the Virginius sailed, is published. The following is an extract:

"The American Consul informed me that there was no cause whatever for the detention of the Virginius, and that he had shipped her crew that day, and that her papers would be all ready at an early hour the next morning, the 26th inst. I therefore came on board the ship, and as soon as night set in cleared the ship for action and loaded the battery. This I did under cover of darkness, for the reason that I thought it best to make no demonstration which might lead the commander of the Pizarro to believe preparations were being making with hostile intent, and for the reason that they were precautionary measures merely, and I did not desire to do anything which he might construe as mere bravado. During next morning, the 26th inst., preparations for sea were clearly visible on board the Virginius. Her motions were closely followed by the Pizarro. Both vessels were getting up steam and their boats were hoisted. The large rifle pivot of the Pizarro, mounted on the mortar deck, was pointed on the Virginius, as well as her two starboard broadside guns. I therefore sent the men quietly to quarters—making no display above the rail—neither showing a crew at the rifled twenty pounder or fore castle, nor making a display of the marine guard at the poop deck; served out an ample supply of ammunition for small arms and pistols, and inspected carefully all the arrangements for supplying powder and fighting the guns; made preparations for slipping and buoying the cable. This being done, caused the crew to leave their quarters, their belts, equipped, to be deposited at the guns, ready for use at a moment's notice. At five minutes to two P. M, the Virginius got under weigh. At the same moment we slipped our chain, went to quarters, and cast loose the battery and sanded down the decks fore and aft. The Virginius immediately took a position on our port bow. We steamed ahead so as to bring the Pizarro on our starboard quarter. In this relative position the two vessels proceeded to sea, the Virginous being about two cables' length ahead and the Pizarro three cables' length off our starboard quarter. The Kansas staid by the Virginius until the Pizarro was about five miles astern, and then returned to the harbor. I cannot conclude this report without expressing to you with what pride I looked on the officers and men of this vessel, as we steamed out of the harbor, as they stood on the sanded deck, armed and equipped, to attend to their loaded guns. I could read determination in the faces of all. Every man would have done his duty should an engagement have taken place. I leave it to those who believe in Dahlgren guns and American men-of-warsmen to conjecture what would have been the result."

The following is the endorsement of the Secretary of the Navy: "The whole course of the conduct in relation to the Virginius is approved in every respect. Signed—Geo. M. Robeson, Secretary."

REPORT ON THE NAVAL INVESTIGATION.

The report of the majority of the House Select Committee upon the charges against Secretary Robeson says his accuser totally failed to produce a single witness or any proof whatever tending in the slightest degree to maintain any of the charges, or to throw even a doubt or suspicion on the personal character of the Secretary. If it were desirable to refer to the testimony at all in detail, it would not be for any purpose of refutation, but only to exhibit the malignant and wanton character of the libels which gave rise to the investigation. The committee feel justified in denouncing them as the most extraordinary libels which have ever been published in this country, and a shameful perversion of the privileges of the press. After careful investigation, they are unable to find errors or irregularities in his administration which would justify any action by the House, or cast any discredit upon the Secretary. Most of the matters which have been even attempted to be criticised have been acts of bureau officers, following a routine long established under former administrations and decisions upon statutes made by former Secretaries, such officers acting with the best of motives, and for the interest of the Government.

In relation to the Tennessee's engines, the committee not only exonerates the Secretary from all suspicion of any bad faith or imprudent contracts, but shows a laudable effort on his part to utilize public property by taking a valuable ship rendered useless through defective machinery and converting her with the least possible expense into a first class and efficient vessel of war.

The contract price to be paid Roach is considerably less than was computed by the Acting Chief Engineer of the Navy. The machinery is to be a compound engine, now almost exclusively used in England, which, it is thought, will soon in this country and elsewhere supersede all others.

Relative to the payment of $93,000 on a claim of the Secors, the committee say the claim was just, and the testimony clearly shows that it had never been paid, disallowed, or even considered until allowed and paid by Robeson, and that the delay was occassioned by the sudden death of persons who would have passed on them. The only real question is whether the claim was barred by the act of Congress of 1857 allowing either claims of the Secors, and this is a question on which lawyers may differ, and a decision may honestly be made either way, and the committee believe the Secretary's interpretation of the words of the act, in the full discharge of all claims against the United States on account of the vessel upon which the Board made the allowance, as meaning the discharge of claims under the act on which the Board made the allowance, as per their report, is a correct one. Every consideration of justice and equity demanded the payment of this bill, and it was the duty of the Secretary to search for such interpretation of the law within as fair an import of its terms as would save the Government from the humiliation of having perpetrated gross injustice.

The committee say all the charges about another matter are entirely false. All other acts sought to be criticised were within the legitimate discretion of the Secretary, exercised without impropriety of either motive or action.

The committee, in conclusion, congratulate Congress and the country that no stain nor suspicion rests on the Secretary.

Mr. Blair, of Michigan, the minority of the committee, condemns the Secretary for a disregard of law, the reopening and paying the Secor account, which had been closed by the department and by Congress, and claims that his action was in direct violation of law and of a wholesome rule of the department, that one administration should not reopen accounts closed by another, its predecessor. The giving of the Tennessee contracts to Roach was prejudicial to the interests of the Government; it was illegal, because it let privately without advertisement and open competition, and because it bartered away the machinery and boilers already in the vessel without authority of law and for less than their real value.

Mr. Blair also condemns the Secretary for making contracts for torpedo boats without advertisement and for payment of the steamer Governor claim, which he believes a groundless one, that never could have prevailed in any court.

Mr. Archer joins with the majority in exonerating the Secretary from the charges of corruption and dishonesty, but, with Mr. Blair, believes the Secor payment and Roach contract to be violations of law.

THE CIVIL RIGHTS BILL.

The civil rights bill, which was passed by the Senate this morning, provides that if the owners or those in charge of any public inn or any place of public amusement or entertainment, for which a license is required, and the owners or persons in charge of any stage coach, railroad or other means of public carriage for passengers or freight, make any distinction as to admission or accommodation on account of race, color or previous condition of servitude, they shall be punishable for each offence by a fine of not less than $500 nor more than $5,000, and shall be liable to such damages in any United States Courts.

THE TOBACCO INTEREST.

The tobacco interests had a hearing to-day before the Senate Finance Committee. The plug manufacturers were represented by Burwell, of Virginia, and Dean, of Kentucky. They fully accept Dawes' uniform tax bill as adopted by the House, and ask for its acceptance by the Senate, and submitted examples showing the inequality of a graded tax. The cutters, through Dr. Spence, of Cincinnati, and Mr. Hudson, of Missouri, oppose the bill, and ask amendments. The bonded warehouse interest was also heard, pro and con.

THE AMNESTY BILL.

The Amnesty bill provides that all political disabilities imposed by the third section of the Fourteenth amendment to the Constitution of the United States are hereby removed from all persons whomsoever, except Senators and Representatives of the Thirty-sixth and Thirty-seventh Congresses, officers in the Judicial, Military and Naval service of the United States, heads of departments and foreign Ministers.

FRONTIER DEPREDATIONS.

The President has appointed Thomas F. Robb, late Collector of Customs at Savannah, Fabius J. Mead, of Mississippi, and Richard H. Savage, of California, as Commissioners under the joint resolution of Congress to examine and enquire into the depredations alleged to have been committed on the frontiers of Texas for several years past by bands of Indians and Mexicans.

THE ADDITIONAL ARTICLE.

The Senate went into executive session this afternoon on the additional article to the treaty of Washington, with a modification proposed by the majority of the Committee on Foreign Relations to effect the original object by a change of phraseology, but of equal application to both sides.

AMNESTY BILL SIGNED.

The President this afternoon signed the bill to remove political disabilities imposed by the fourteenth article of the amendments to the constitution. The exceptions will, it is supposed, cover two hundred cases, including Jefferson Davis and John C. Breckenridge.

B. & P. R. R. DEPOT.

The President has approved the Baltimore & Potomac Railroad depot bill, granting a square of ground within the city limits for a depot site and other purposes.

NEW NAVAL STATION.

The President has made an arrangement or treaty with chief Tutilla, of one of the Navigator Islands, for a naval station and coal depot.

Meeting of Detroit Democratic Association.

DETROIT, MICH., May 22.—A meeting of the Democratic association of this city was held at the Board of Trade Hall last night. The attendance was large, and all the most prominent party leaders were present. Hon. Wm. A. Moore, member of the National Democratic Committee, presented the following resolution, which was adopted unanimously:

Resolved, That this association is in favor of harmonious action between the Liberal Republican and Democratic parties in the next Presidential election, and that we will support the nominees of the Cincinnati Convention if they are endorsed by the Baltimore Convention.

Illinois Republican Convention.

SPRINGFIELD, May 22.—The Republican State Convention met in this city at noon to-day. It was the largest delegate convention ever held in the State, every county being fully represented except one. There was also a large attendance of prominent representatives from all parts of the State.

The Convention was called to order by Gen. Renaker, of the Central Committee. Hon. J. R. Root, of Cook, was elected temporary chairman, and made a brief speech, returning thanks for the honor conferred. He also read the following despatch:

"WASHINGTON, May 22.—To the Republican State Convention, Springfield, Illinois: Give us harmony with big-hearted Dick Oglesby for Governor and good men as his associates on the State ticket, and we will carry Illinois by such a majority as will fill every true Republican with joy.

(Signed.) "JOHN A. LOGAN."

After the appointment of the usual committees, the Convention took a recess until 2 P. M.

On reassembling, a permanent organization was effected by the election of Hon. Stephen T. Logan, of Sangamon county, as President, with Vice Presidents from each district.

On taking his seat, Judge Logan made an eloquent speech, which was loudly cheered.

On motion, the Convention proceeded to nominate candidates for State officers. Gen. Richard J. Oglesby was nominated for Governor by acclamation.

After an informal ballot, Gen. J. L. Beveridge was nominated for Lieutenant Governor, also by acclamation.

For Auditor General, C. E. Lippincott was nominated by acclamation, all opposition being withdrawn before the first ballot was taken.

Col. Geo. Harlow was nominated for Secretary of State, E. Rutz, of St. Clair, for Treasurer, and J. K. Edsall, of Lee, for Attorney General.

The Committee on Resolutions, through Gen. Raum, reported the following, which was adopted with immense applause:

The first declares the past acts of the Republican party a better guarantee than mere resolutions of a new party, and recounts the achievements of the Republican party in the destruction of slavery, the introduction of civil service reform, the adoption of the eight hour law for labor in the public service, the maintenance of a policy fully protecting naturalized citizens from the claims of foreign allegiance, in honesty and justice to both settlers and Indians in its Indian policy, in the suppression of the rebellion and measurable restoration of peace or through magnanimous treatment of rebels.

The second extolls the financial policy of the party, which has reduced both national debt and national tax, placed the credit of the nation in the best condition, and furnished the people with good national currency.

The third declares that no other party can be safely entrusted with the national Government.

The fourth declares as a fundamental principle of the Republican party the right and duty of its supporters to criticise the national, State and municipal Governments, and that no party ever existed in the country that can boast so much independence of thought, speech and action.

The fifth declares that all sovereignty emanates from the people, a portion of which they have delegated to the National Government, with a larger portion to the State Governments, reserving to themselves the residue in bills of rights and restrictions against encroachments of the National, State and Municipal Governments, and that no Republican wishes to deprive the nation, States, counties, cities, towns or individuals of any.

The eleventh is as follows:

Resolved, That the people of the United States owe U. S. Grant a great debt of gratitude for his patriotic devotion to the interests of the people in war and peace: that we have unabated confidence in his integrity, patriotism, ability, prudence and good judgment, and hereby instruct our delegates to the Philadelphia Convention to vote for and use all honorable means to insure his nomination as the Republican candidate for the Presidency of the United States.

Full sets of electors and of delegates and alternates to the National Republican Convention were selected.

The Convention then adjourned until 8 P. M., when Gov. Oglesby, delivered a stirring campaign speech.

A Mongrel Conference.

SPRINGFIELD, ILL., May 22.—A conference of Liberal Republicans and Democrats was held in this city to-day. After a general interchange of opinion, the Liberal Republicans adopted a resolution that a State Central Committee of Thirteen be appointed to issue a call for a Liberal Republican Mass State Convention, to nominate State officers and Presidential electors, to take such steps as it may deem proper for the organization of the Liberal party in this State, and recommending that said convention be held at Springfield, on the 26th June; also that said convention take immediate steps to organize Greeley and Brown clubs throughout the State.

The resolution was adopted, the Democrats present requesting the Democratic State Central Committee to supplement the call issued by them for a State Democratic State Convention on the 26th of June, by adding to the business of selecting delegates to the National Democratic Convention that of nominating a State ticket.

The meeting was attended by about one hundred Liberal Reformers and Democrats from all parts of the State.

Arkansas (Brooks) Republican Convention.

LITTLE ROCK, May 22.—The Brooks wing of the Republican party met in State Convention to-day. General R. N. Callorson was made temporary Chairman. After appointing a Committee on Credentials, the Convention adjourned until ten o'clock to-morrow. The attendance is large. The delegation is about equally divided between whites and blacks. In caucus it has been decided by more than a two-thirds vote that the Convention to-morrow will declare for Greeley and Brown, and put forward a full State ticket.

Senator Rice and Congressmen Bolls both are here urging that cause.

Philadelphia Union League.

PHILADELPHIA, May 22.—The Union League of this city held a meeting this evening to take action in regard to the coming campaign. Resolutions were adopted endorsing President Grant, and a committee of twenty-five was authorized to conduct the campaign.

Maine Republican Congressional Convention.

LEWISTOWN, ME., May 22.—The Second District Republican Convention to-day nominated Wm. P. Frye for Congress by acclamation. Resolutions favoring Grant and Colfax were unanimously adopted.

Democratic Candidate for Governor of Pennsylvania.

BEDFORD, PA., May 11.—The Democratic County Convention here to-day instructed their delegates to the Reading Convention to vote for the Hon. W. P. Schell for Governor.

BEAVER COUNTY POLITICS.

Slander Refuted.

EDITORS GAZETTE: Your paper of the 16th inst., contained a communication headed "Who are the Bolters," signed very wrongfully, "Fair Play," in which the writer makes a general onslaught upon a number of gentlemen of Beaver county, some of whom are now candidates for Republican nomination. The object of the writer is evidently to increase existing troubles, and make general Republican disaster inevitable. In regard to one of the gentleman assailed, I ask you, as an act of justice, to give place to the following communications from Hon. Judge Agnew, of the Supreme Court, Harrison Mendenhall, Esq., of New Brighton, and Hon. John Allison, Register of the Treasury. I suppose you will be satisfied with the character of the witnesses; and as they say all that is necessary, I shall offer no comment. I leave that for you and your readers.

H.

LETTER FROM HON. JUDGE AGNEW.

HARRISBURGH, May 20th, 1872.

DEAR SIR:—I have received your letter of the 17th, enclosing an article cut from the Pittsburgh GAZETTE entitled, "Who are Bolters?" and requesting a statement from me as to certain matters contained in it. I regret this call very much. Not that I am unwilling to do justice to an old and valued friend, but because of the causes which have led to this appeal, and of the necessity which forces me into a position I would avoid in view of the place I fill. You will excuse me therefore if I make my answers brief, and confine them to that which is personally known to me.

The article referred to contains this passage. "Wm. Henry, six years ago, was overwhelmingly beaten in this county for the nomination as state Senator. Instead of acquiescing like a "true" man he listened to the seductive words of Wm. Montgomery, to become an independent Democratic candidate, and had it not been for a gentlemen holding a seat on the Supreme Bench, who in full view, and in the hearing of scores of Democrats and Republicans passing and repassing on the streets, literally thrashed the insane idea out of his mind, he would have bartered himself wholely away to those who were ready to take back rebels with open arms."

The foregoing statement evidently refers to me. So far as it does, it is incorrect in language and spirit. The facts are these. You were coming from the direction of Hall's Hotel toward my house. I had been told that you had gone to the hotel where Montgomery and his friends were, and where it was rumored by persons then unfriendly to your interests, you were conferring with them upon schemes injurious to the Republican ticket. Seeing you coming, I determined as an old friend to interrogate you, and if there was any foundation for the report, to dissuade you from any such alliance. You told me you had been sent for to come to the hotel. That you found Montgomery and others there. That the subject of the Senate was mentioned, and you were offered the Democratic vote if you would run, but that you had not accepted, and did not intend to. Without undertaking to give all that was said this was the purport of the whole matter. We had a long conversation, some of which related to collateral matters, and in part of it I stated my views of such alliances as the one imputed. I did not then, and I have not since believed there was any just foundation for the charge, further than the unfriendliness created out of the visit to the hotel.

The conversation occurred between ourselves, apart from all others, in the public square, under the oak tree in front of my house. I remember no passers-by. It was not in the hearing of scores of Democrats and Republicans, but was in private, and could could not have been easily heard by any one; and no such account of the conversation, as that given in the extract above, has ever been given by me.

There is another passage in the article to which you call my attention, as one of the "others" referred to. I am not sure of the reference to me, nor do I know exactly what circumstance is referred to. I therefore prefer not to reply to a matter in which I might commit a mistake. I can only say in general terms that I have known you well and intimately for more than forty years, and that I have never known a fact or circumstance reflecting upon your personal integrity, or detracting from your standing as a consistent member of the old Whig, and the present Republican party. It would require more than ordinary evidence to contradict the uniform tenor of a life, so well and so long known to me. I am truly your friend,

DANIEL AGNEW.

STATEMENT OF H. MENDENHALL.

My attention has been called to a communication in the Pittsburgh GAZETTE, of the 16th instant, signed "Fair Play," in which, among other things, it is charged that in the year 1866, Wm. Henry, Esq., of Fallston, Beaver county, "listened to the seductive words of Wm. Montgomery, to become an independent Democratic candidate" for the State Senate, "and was ready to barter himself away to those willing to take back the rebels with open arms."

As I was present at the affair referred to, that is to say, at the National Hotel in Beaver, at the September Court of 1866, I am free to say, I know the charge to be a gross misrepresentation; and as far as Mr. Henry's expression and apparent feeling at that time are concerned, is entirely void of truth. I heard every word uttered at that interview, which lasted probably twenty minutes, and every expression and indication of Mr. Henry was just the reverse of that attributed to him, by the correspondent of the GAZETTE. When Mr. Henry was introduced to Mr. Montgomery (which interview was certainly not sought by the former) Mr. M. immediately opened on politics, spoke of his knowledge of the widespread dissatisfaction amongst Republicans of this county with the Senatorial nomination—that if Mr. H. would run as an independent Republican candidate, he would give him every Democratic vote in the district, and guarantee his election. Said Mr. M., "I will vote for you, and I do not ask you to vote for me." Mr. Henry responded, that he had been a candidate for the Republican Senatorial nomination; had always been a pretty decided party man, his life business necessarily making him so—always zealous for maintaining party rules—that he had nothing now to yield of Republicanism for any purpose, and could not entertain the proposition. He was aware, he said, of Republican dissatisfaction, but he was in no way or degree responsible for it; then leaving the room, and those present, with the distinct understanding that he would not be an independent candidate. The fact that he did not run, stands in corroboration. The Senatorial question was the only matter referred to whilst Mr. Henry was present.

H. MENDENHALL.

New Brighton, May 20.

LETTER FROM HON. JOHN ALLISON.

WASHINGTON CITY, May 18, 1872.

WM. HENRY ESQ., Dear Sir:—Yours of the 16th instant, calling my attention to an article published in the Pittsburgh GAZETTE of same date, under head of "Who are 'Bolters?'" in which the writer is pleased to review the history of some past campaigns in Beaver county, is now before me, and I hasten to reply.

You ask me to state my recollection in regard to the charge made that "you and others sought to crush the Argus because the editors would not join them in a fusion with the Democrats in opposition to the regular ticket." This seems to refer to the campaign of 1854. Some time during that canvass, I was informed by my friends that certain leading politicians of Beaver had made various threats in regard to the Argus; but I do not remember that your name was ever associated with those who were hostile to my election; but on the contrary. I believed then and since, that you were my friend and anxious for my election. At every time that I was a candidate I received your cordial support. Our relations for many years were intimate and cordial; and I do not remember an occasion when you faltered in the support of the nominee of the party. As a Whig and as a Republican, as long as I resided in the county, I ever found you true and loyal to your party; and I know of no event in our long acquaintance that reflects discredit upon your loyalty as a politician, or detracts from your character as a high minded and honorable man. I would regret to see injustice done you by the misrepresentation of matters long past.

Yours, &c.,

JOHN ALLISON.

Anything to Beat Grant.

[From Harper's Weekly.]

Mr. Beck, one of the Democratic leaders in the House of Representatives, lately made one of the charges against the honesty of the Administration which are now the chief cry of the alliance against the Republican party. Mr. Beck's charge is a good illustration of the kind of warfare that is waged upon the President. It was as follows:

"During the last fiscal year, in defiance of that law (act of July 12, 1870) the War Department, as is shown by the report of the Secretary of the Treasury, expended $8,000,000 in excess of the appropriations, and sold arms to the French to make good the deficiency; and the proceeds of those arms are now deposited in the Treasury to the credit of that Department, subject to be drawn out by it."

The Secretary of War, in a letter to Mr. Dawes, remarks that Mr. Beck is in error at all points, and proceeds in the tersest and most conclusive manner to prove it. The War Department did not expend any sums in excess of appropriation; it did not sell arms to make good the deficiency; even if there was a deficiency, the money to the credit of ordnance stores could not be used to make it good; the proceeds of the sales mentioned are not in the Treasury to the credit of the War Department, nor subject to its order. The Secretary leaves little of Mr. Beck.

Mr. Fernando Wood made an attack of the usual kind upon General Dyer, Chief of the Ordnance Department, to which the General replied in a letter so conclusive that Mr. Wood retracted his charges.

It is by the incessant reiteration of such charges that the campaign is conducted of anything and anybody to beat Grant.

THE best test of a man's merit is his home popularity. A few days since Judge Mercur paid a visit to his home, on which occasion his fellow citizens, irrespective of party, turned out in large numbers and gave him a call. Speeches were made by Judge Streeter and others, and Judge Mercur responded. There is every indication that Judge Mercur will have an old-fashioned majority in Bradford county.

SOMERSET is still in distress. Not less than $20,000 should be forwarded by this city to the relief of her suffering people.

WE SHALL THANK our country readers for any information they may send us relative to the crop prospects. Their letters need not be long, so that they give accurate intelligence, they will prove of interest to our readers.

THE BROAD and liberal amnesty bill of the House has been passed by the Senate, and now goes to the President for his signature—which it will certainly receive. This measure will take all the wind out of the Cincinnati platform.

PITTSBURGH has at last secured a reasonable appropriation at the hands of the Committee of Congress on Public Buildings for new governmental offices. The sum awarded us, $300,000, will go a great way in the purchase of a suitable site. Congress can hardly fail to concur in the action of the committee. To the indefatigable energy of Gen. Negley we owe the credit of securing the grant.

A WRITER in the Commercial favors the nomination, by the Republicans, of Hon. James F. Wilson of Iowa, for President, and General Joseph Hawley of Connecticut, for Vice President. We guess Grant and Colfax will suit the Republicans of Pennsylvania. They have been well tried. Does the Commercial know that James F. Wilson is a leading opponent of the protective tariff system, if not a thorough free-trader?

WILL the Democrats swallow Greeley?—Luminary.

We hope not; the poor old editor might prove tough and hard to digest. They may adopt him as their candidate if they wish, however, it will be of little odds to Republicans. But they must not think of "swallowing" the old gent himself, unless their stomachs are as case-hardened as that of the "great flopper." From his political diet of late years, and his oft-repeated changes, we imagine he has a stomach for swallowing almost anything.

CAN Negley read?—Post.

Not such stuff as usually fills your columns, neighbor. Witness the following, taken from your edition of Tuesday. Speaking of General Negley you say: "He had the opportunity of knowing, and we believe he did know, that Gen. Cass had nothing to do with the bill, which fact will be made plain this morning through the Gazette, over his own signature."

Whose signature neighbor does that refer to, Negley's or Cass'? It was "the latter's signature" you meant. A little while ago you spoke of a party "being indoctrinated with the theory of office holding." We challenge Gen. Negley or anybody else, including the writer of the sentence, to read that quotation intelligently and explain its meaning. Come child, critics must sometimes be criticised. "Try again."

WHAT AILS our sweet tempered Fifth avenue neighbor; has he been eating sour bread lately? Speaking of Pennsylvania politics and politicians he says: "It is our own fault, however, that we are compelled to take a back seat; let us learn a lesson from it. Let us begin at once and in earnest to redeem politics in this State from unclean hands. Let us drive out the guerillas and mountebanks who have so deeply disgraced Republicanism in this State, stop fighting among ourselves, and set such an example of peace and harmony that hereafter the voice of Pennsylvania in the national party councils will be potential, as it ought to be."

Who are the "mountebanks," the "guerillas" with "unclean hands" who have "so deeply disgraced Republicanism in this State?" These words mean something, or nothing." Will our neighbor explain? "Stop fighting among ourselves;" to whom is this addressed? WE are for "peace and harmony" all the time; and we would like to see Pennsylvania always exert the influence in the councils, both of party and nation, which her greatness should entitle her to. We ask in all earnestness does she not now stand well in the party, and with the nation?

THE people of New York city and vicinity are just awakening to the fact, that they have been the victims of a serious fraud. Articles of daily consumption seem to be choice subjects for adulteration. One day we have an alarm of wooden nutmegs; an other day that our tobacco and beer is impure, and now comes the milk. It has been discovered that the unprincipled milk venders of that city have been in the habit of watering their stock pretty much in about the same proportion as the Erie directors did theirs.

When will we have honesty in this country? We are glad to see, however, that the New York Tribune has persistently watched and tracked these rascals. The Anti-Cruelty Society officers also have been very useful in the matter. If these parties would limit their operations to mere water, we would not so much mind; but the extras are what we dislike. The "thickening process" doesn't sound palatable at all; chalk, brains, saleratus, ground bones, &c., as ingredients. Then add the distemper with which most of the city cows are afflicted, and we can get a pretty shrewd idea of where the ills "to which flesh is heir to," come from. People wonder at the infant mortality being so great. It is probably this alone that causes it. In the upper and middle classes of society about one-third of the infants, from climatic causes, are unable to get any other nourishment, and any acid or astringent is fatal to their tender and delicate digestive organs. In any case it is bad to adulterate any kind of food or drink, and a severe punishment should be meted out to all persons who attempt it.

GREELEY'S LETTER.

His letter accepting the Presidential nomination has been published by the nominee of the late Liberal Republican Convention, and it is surely a most uninteresting and singular document. Instead of the dignified and statesmanlike paper which we have hitherto looked for, and always received from a nominee for the highest position in the land, we have a fair sample of a Tribune editorial, with all the distinguishing marks of personal bitterness, partisan bigotry and self-conceit, which have made their chief writer famous as a politician. We hoped that Mr. Greeley, on receiving the national and world-wide distinction of a nomination to the chief place in the great Republic of America, a post which the proudest ruler in the universe might covet for the sake of the distinguished honor it confers, would rise far above the position of a mere local partisan, and furnish to his country and the world a letter forcibly stamped with the impression of a true Democrat, loving his country and its institutions, and determined to uphold the one and maintain the other at all hazard, and at any cost. Instead of this, we have a miserable conglomeration of clap-trap flummery, which any ward politician might have written, in which all allusion to the significance of the country, and the greatness and beauty of its history and its institutions, its future and the policy which he will adopt if elected its chief officer, is passed by without a word, and in its stead we are regaled with a stale dish of stupid nonsense, in which reference is made to the "DRILL-SERGEANTS of decaying organizations flourishing their TRUNCHEONS," "WHIPPERS-IN of parties" protesting against "BOLTING," and denouncing their inferiors as "TRAITORS and renegades," threatening them with "INFAMY and RUIN."

If Mr. Greeley were pandering to the vicious tastes of the dwellers at the "Five Points," or "gods of the gallery" in the Bowery, he could not have uttered a more successful and acceptable travesty. But he appears to have wholly forgotten that his words would be quoted wherever civilization has reached, as the utterances of a possible President of the Great Republic, and that the intelligence of his own country was the element he should have attempted to address, and, if possible, win to his support. He has chosen to do otherwise, having found, doubtless, that the way to win the rowdy and ungodly elements of society to his cause, is by abusing the party of which he has until lately been a conspicuous member. We imagine that the other sort will find little in his letter to admire, but much to condemn.

Among other ridiculous and silly ideas which this letter contains, none is more silly than that of finding fault with the actions of General Grant in "bestowing office on those who agree with him." In the name of reason, upon whom should office be bestowed, unless upon the class who are pledged to carry out the policy and the views of the ruling administration? Would Mr. Greeley entrust an important case to an attorney who was openly, flagrantly opposed to his success in the suit? Would he employ men who radically differed from himself in the conduct of his business, and who opposed him in every move he attempted to make? Is the man mad, that he would urge upon the President of the United States to appoint his personal or political enemies to office, thus placing weapons in their hands to circumvent and destroy him? Has Mr. Greeley gone clear crazy in his advocacy of the divine forgiveness of his enemies, or does he take the country for a nation of fools?

To further illustrate his deceit he writes: "That the patriotic devotedness and inestimable services of our fellow citizens, who, as soldiers or sailors, upheld the flag and maintained the unity of the Republic, shall ever be gratefully remembered and honorably requited."

While he is bent heart and soul on the defeat of the only "soldier" now being urged for the Presidency, why did he write that their services "shall EVER be gratefully remembered and honorably requited," when his candidature is accepted solely to compass the defeat of the most successful and most prominent one among them? Why did he not rather write, "their services shall count as nothing, except when they do my bidding." This would have been truth; and Horace Greeley has repeatedly said so. He has stated that his only charge against General Grant was that the latter ignored his friends, and he "proposed to stand that but for one term." He has admitted, that if the "soldier" had appointed his (Greeley's) friends to office, he would then have advocated the "requital," and "gratefully remembered" the services of that soldier. Failing in this he spurns the one and ignores the other.

But, turning from these deceitful and silly utterances, we will look for a statement of the principles, which this forgiving shepherd ennunciates, as the guide of his future, should he succeed in reaching the coveted seat. He says of his new party, "Casting behind it the wreck and rubbish of worn-out contentions and bygone feuds, it embodies, in fit and few words, the needs and aspirations of to-day."

This means, if it means anything, that the traitors who attempted to destroy their Government, whether repentant or rampant still for "States rights," and the "rights of secession," the same which Mr. Greeley, in the early days of the rebellion advocated, shall be restored to that full citizenship which their perjured souls rejected at the opening of the slave-holders' rebellion. Are the American people ready for this?

Mr. Greeley adds that he desires to take "a new departure from the jealousies, strifes and hates which have no longer adequate motives, or even plausible pretext, in an atmosphere of peace, fraternity and mutual good will."

In all candor does not General Grant desire the same thing? Has not the Republican party made every effort to bring about this much desired state of affairs at the South? Would it not long ago have been accomplished, except for the murderous work of that Ku-Klux organization, whose votes and influence Mr. Greeley this day is striving to obtain?

Does any one doubt it? Can Mr. Greeley's election do more to pacify the country, and bring about "peace, fraternity, and mutual good will," than that of General Grant? We think not. The South has a better friend in the latter than in the former, because a more honest and just one.

We pass by the truckling allusions of this candidate of "Liberalism" to the tariff, and other questions. In this letter he pledges himself not to veto a free-trade bill, though his judgment told him it would ruin the country. This is squarely in violation of all his previous utterances, and we deem it the most humiliating portion of this ill-advised letter of acceptance. Can it be possible that Horace Greeley could so far forget his whole past life, as to pledge himself to sign a law inflicting upon this country that odious free-trade system which he has so justly assailed? Does he not know that the "British gold," of which he has often warned his countrymen, is still potent to purchase the legislation which he now pledges himself to sanction, if elected, with his signature? Has he not hardened his heart against the teachings of a life-time?

TRANSPORTATION OF CATTLE.

The transportation of cattle is a subject which ought to claim the serious attention of all classes. At the present time in this country, and until very recently in Europe, the treatment of animals designed for food, whilst traveling, was a matter of no importance to either the consignor or the railway companies. As long as the animals arrived at their destination alive and safe, it mattered not what tortures they endured on the road. Now the matter is receiving great consideration abroad, not only from medical men, but also from the railway companies. It is well known, cattle are often exposed for sixty or ninety hours whilst traveling, in a standing condition, without food or water, and in a jolting unsheltered car, suffering from heat and dust. This prostration deteriorates the flesh by causes acting on, or through the nervous and circulatory systems, and hence engenders disease. Many people who partake of this deteriorated meat suffer serious spells of sickness, and the reason is apparent to all when pointed out.

European Savants more particularly noticed this, in trying to account for peculiar manifestations of diseases coming directly under their notice, which baffled all other attempts to diagnos. Now, a new cattle truck has been introduced, on several foreign railways. This truck is divided into compartments, in such a manner as to allow the cattle placed therein to be fed and watered regularly on a journey. With elastic springs to relieve the joltings; buffers to prevent or soften any shock; and a light roof to keep off the sun's heat, the comforts of the cattle are very much improved, and their condition more healthy. This is better also for the owners, as it certainly must enable them to get a better price for their cattle. The consumer can eat his beef or veal without a fear that, that which he takes to stimulate and strengthen him, may be the cause of a lingering and protracted illness. We would be glad to see them on our railways, and every consumer of animal food should loudly demand this improved cattle truck. There are societies for prevention of cruelty to animals in our cities, and deservedly noble institutions they are; yet the present transportation of cattle through the Western States is something outrageous, and horribly cruel. Legislation should be immediately had on this matter, in every State in the Union. It is a disgrace to our humanity, a very black stain on our honor thus to treat our poor dumb servitors. Horror is aroused in our breasts at the treatment of the slave; at the atrocities of the wild savages; but we see only the mote in our brother's eye when we allow this inhuman practice to continue. Mankind is so near allied to cattle in physical organization that we can very well fancy the sufferings of these poor animals, by comparison with what our own feelings would be under such circumstances. Let, then, those who differ with us try the ordeal of even twenty-four hours' travel in such cars as those in present use, standing exposed to the inclemency of the weather, without food or water, and if they are not converted they deserve the fate of Tantalus.

MATTERS OF MOMENT.

THE pleasant showers of the past few days, have caused nature to array herself in holiday garments.

NOT ONE representative man of the colored voters, has declared in favor of the Cincinnati nominations.

THEY have imported the American custom of "stumping" into France, and Gambetta has tried it with signal success in nearly every important town.

OUR quiet sister, Allegheny, had her serenity slightly disturbed, on Tuesday, with an attempted suicide, a horse-whipping case, in which an irate female was the chastiser, and a pleasant family episode wherein a father through the medium of a revolver, attempted to interfere with the course of true love. Allegheny does well, when a commencement is made, and this week especially has the earnest gratitude of the reportorial corps.

THE refreshing showers of Saturday and Sunday were of incalculable benefit. From all quarters of the State comes the cheering intelligence that the crops have been greatly revived and vegetation quickened. These pleasant and cooling May showers have brought gladness, especially to the farmer, and general joy among all classes who are interested in a plentiful harvest. An incidental advantage too, but one which cannot be overlooked, was their timely extinguishment of the mountain fires.

DR. SLOAN—he whose vivid imagination favors him with such fanciful reminiscences of "ballot stuffing" among Methodist ministers thirty years ago,—should at once take advantage of the cheap notoriety he has gained, and make a lecturing tour; and if the Methodist General Conference, would do right and preserve its dignity and the honor of the workers of the past, by promptly expelling Dr. Sloan then indeed would he have reached that tide, which if taken at its flood, might lead on to fortune. The Conference ought to help him along.

THOSE of our Methodist friends who participated, or allowed the unseemly excitement in their Conference, on Monday, in reference to the Book Concern troubles, will have some difficulty hereafter in consistently rebuking political conventions. These ministerial brethren should not forget that not only their own personal standing, but the honor of the church suffers from such displays, and that if they require so much from political conventions, where self-interest plays so large a part, how much more do the people require of them—the exponents of meekness, and grace and self-sacrifice. The Book Concern matter may be a troublesome and very vexatious one, but it is to be hoped it will not be too large a draft on ministerial patience.

"INDEPENDENT journalism" is Mr. Whitelaw Reid's pet fancy; not long since it induced him to pour out all the vials of his virtuous wrath upon "Kinsella, the leader of the corrupt Brooklyn ring." But now Mr. Kinsella is a prospective ally, and is thus spoken of:

"The editor of the Tribune honors Mr. Kinsella for his patriotic course, and for the courage and sagacity he displays, but has never had any communication with him, does not know him, never saw him, would not to-day, meeting him on Broadway, be able to distinguish him from the editor of the World or the owner of any other place of prostitution."

Aside from the "independence of this choice paragraph, the polished sarcasm of that inuendo referring to the World man is in harmonious accord with the dignity and decency of a "high-toned family journal."

ONE of the most important matters—the election of eight new Bishops—was concluded in the M. E. General Conference at Brooklyn yesterday. The ministers selected for this high office were among the most eminent men of the Church, and the selections will be generally approved. Dr. Thomas Bowman, the first on the list, is at present President of the Asbury University, located in Indiana. Dr. W. L. Harris, L. L. D., has for years held the position of Secretary of the General Conference, and was formerly President of the Wesleyan University in Ohio. For some years past he has held the position of Assistant Secretary of the General Missionary Society of the Church. Dr. R. S. Foster, is President of the Drew Theological Seminary, at Machison, New Jersey, one of the leading educational Institutions of the Church. Dr. Isaac W. Wiley, has held the position of editor-in-chief of the Ladies Repository, published by the Church at Cincinnati, for the past eight years. Rev. Dr. S. M. Merrill, is editor of the Western Christian Advocate, published at Cincinnati. Dr. E. G. Andrews, is comparatively a new man. At present he is pastor of a church in Brooklyn. Rev. Gilbert Haven has been editor of Zion's Herald, one of the foremost religious journals in the country. He is an old time Abolitionist and a Radical of the most progressive type. Dr. Jesse T. Peck was the last man chosen—probably because of his advanced age. He is about sixty-five years old, but is vigorous. He is an author of some note and has occupied in former years the editorial chair of the Quarterly Review. He is the oldest man on the list, and Dr. Merrill, who is about fifty years of age, is the youngest. The large preponderance of ministerial journalists in the list, is notable.

A CALUMNY REFUTED.

PITTSBURGH, May 20, 1872

The following falsehood from a late Sheffield paper has been extensively re-published in this country, to the prejudice of the American steel manufacturers, and knowing how utterly destitute of any foundation in fact, the statement attributed to Mr. Mundella, M. P., was, I waited upon Mr. Boutwell, Secretary of the Treasury, during the last week, and called his attention to it. That gentleman denounces the whole story, so far as he is concerned, as a pure fabrication, and has authorized me to contradict it publicly, which I do in his own language, that "there is not one word of truth in it from beginning to end.

JAMES M. COOPER.

"In the course of a speech at the annual meeting of the Sheffield Chamber of Commerce, Mr. Mundella, M. P., touched upon the late 'street difficulty' regarding which he said: I assure you it was a great pleasure for me when in Washington and New York, to make a fight for the honor of Sheffield merchants, and it was really practically admitted to me by Mr. Boutwell, the Secretary of the Treasury (the whole thing is settled now, and there can be no harm to mention it), that the claimants had no case, and that the whole affair was got up by steel merchants of America on speculation, hoping to entrap the manufacturers and thereby to lay an embargo on their goods, and secure to themselves a monopoly of the trade."

WASHINGTON GOSSIP.

Something About Bells

[Correspondence of the Philadelphia Press.]

The city of Washington is blessed with a chime of bells. They are suspended from the spire which crowns the Metropolitan M. E. Church, which stands only a few squares removed from the Capitol. An act of Congress passed May 3, 1802, made this point of the world a city, and during seventy years of its existence neither peal nor chime of melody distinguished the holy from the wicked days of the week. A successive line of Presidents lived and passed away whose ears were never tingled by diatonic bells. Ulysses S. Grant is the first American ruler who has heard a chime at the Capital. One evening President Ulysses was invited to the parsonage of this church, and Mrs. Newman, the pastor's wife, proposed music to soothe the cares of State. The musician of the spire was sent for, and he brought a long list of marvellous notes which he knew how to execute with his bells.

"Shall it be a harmony from Mozart or an opera from Jullien?" quoth the professor.

"Let us have Yankee Doodle," said the President.

And so on the clear frosty air rang out the soul enlivening strains that cheered the soldiers on the Brandywine, at Bunker Hill, on Mission Ridge, and the Chickahominy. Out of each brazen-throated bell came the music, unlike that which means "peace on earth and good will to men." But why not Yankee Doodle? In the old Revolution the bells performed martial duty. As we have said before, there was a time when no chimes were heard at the capital. This state of affairs might have existed to-day had not a lovely Christian woman set herself bravely to work to reach the ears of all the wandering sheep, whether within or without the shepherd's fold. Mrs. J. P. Newman, the wife of the pastor of this church, began the work in February, 1870, and completed it in December, 1871. Altogether, for her toil in reality began before the first date, she was more than two years engaged in her thankless undertaking, if some of the newspapers are to be trusted. After long and judicious inquiry she found that the best set of chimes, consisting of eleven bells, would cost eleven thousand dollars. Where was all this money to be obtained? The beautiful church they were to adorn was already burdened with a large floating debt; but, all undaunted, she determined to go forth and ask different denominations to contribute, because she believed that the church which a President attends is a national church, whether it be liberal or orthodox. In the beginning of the movement there was no money even to build a spire, but this difficulty was removed by a wealthy citizen of Baltimore, Mr. Thomas Kelso by name, contributing five thousand dollars for the purpose, in addition to a very handsome sum already advanced to liquidate the church debt.

Mr. Newman's first efforts began by originating some tableaux, artistic in design and finish, and, to use a theatrical expression, if one may be so wicked, "they drew well." Senators and members, with their wives and daughters, patronized the parson's pretty wife. She was so enthusiastic and earnest, her voice and manner were a reminder of silver bells. One thousand dollars were gleaned from the tableaux, but the mountain of ten thousand dollars still remained. Washington was already nearly exhausted. In the meantime the President and Cabinet had given modest amounts. Admiral Farragut subscribed his name, saying he should put down no sum, but on his return he should bring his offering. Alas! he never came again. After his arrival home he was summoned by a Commander whose call is never disobeyed, and started on the cruise to eternity.

About this period the city of New York became the field of action, and Mrs. Dr. Lozier, of medical fame, gave the first five hundred dollars. Mrs. Lozier is a Presbyterian, but her generous heart knows no sect or creed; besides, she realized that the bells were to benefit Congressmen, editors, and bootblacks alike. Oh! the aching head and poor, little tired feet. Even the brokers office of Woodhull & Claflin was visited.

"And what do you think Tennie C. Claflin said?"

"Something dreadful, no doubt."

"She declared she would give more to pull down every church in the country than for any other purpose!"

"What did the parson's wife say?"

"I didn't look back. I just ran away."

In order to give strength to the undertaking, Mrs. Newman declared that any person giving five hundred dollars should have his or her name inscribed in large letters on the bell, with a motto thereon besides. The following are the inscriptions of the bells:

"A. English Newman, wife of Rev. J. P. Newman, D. D., first pastor of the Metropolitan Memorial M. E. Church. 'She hath done what she could.—Mark: xiv., 8.' "

"Mrs. Clemence S. Lozier, M. D., New York City. 'Holiness unto the Lord.' "

"Mrs. Drake Mills, Williamstown, Massachusetts. 'The poor shall hear thereof and be glad.' "

"Mrs. John B. Cornell, New York City. 'O come let us worship and bow down.' "

"Julia Dent Grant, wife of U. S. Grant, President of the United States of America."

"Nellie Wade Colfax, wife of Schuyler Colfax, Vice President of the United States of America."

"Mrs. Governor Cooke, wife of H. D. Cooke, first Governor of the District of Columbia."

"Miss Amanda L. Grant, daughter of Captain A. Grant. 'Remember now thy Creator in the days of thy youth.' "

"Mrs. Ellen Y. Daniel, Baltimore, Md. 'I was glad when they said unto me, let us go into the house of the Lord.' "

"Mrs. Professor O. S. Pratt. 'In that day shall there be upon the bells of the horses, holiness unto the Lord.' "

"Infant class of the Metropolitan Memorial M. E. Church. 'Of such is the Kingdom of Heaven.' "

A few of the personal friends of Mrs. Grant and Mrs. Colfax subscribed the necessary amount, and requested that they might be allowed to place their names on the bells as a lasting testimonial of their respect and esteem. Long after the givers and receivers have been reduced to dust there will be suspended in a lofty pinnacle, in indestructable metal, the name of those who have made the world better by having lived in it. Monuments of stone will crumble, while generations pass away; but the curious intruder who climbs through dust and cobwebs upward into a certain spire will read the last and most enduring inscription of a tomb.

As to the quality of the Metropolitan chimes, several members of the Thomas Orchestra, who are said to be excellent judges, declare that these bells are the finest of any chimes they have heard in the country, and compare favorably with those in Europe. These bells consist of what is termed a ninth, besides a sharp fourth and flat seventh, and are cast in the key of D, and weigh 20,000 pounds. They are made of pure bell metal, in proportion of 79¾ copper to 20¼ tin. Mr. F. Widdows, the musician of the bells, says "they would have been perfection if three thousand dollars in silver had been added to their composition."

To show the perfection to which chiming has attained, Mr. Widdows plays upon the Metropolitan bells the most complicated music, such as: "I know that my Redeemer liveth," from Handel's "Messiah;" the duet, "Make me no gaudy chaplet," from "Lucretia Borgia," and the "Carnival of Venice," with variations. OLIVIA.

[From the Woodtown Register.]

Joseph K. Riley of this place has shown us one of the rarest old parchments to be found in the country. It is a deed from William Penn and others to Robert Turner and others of Dublin for West Jersey, which is dated A. D. 1667, twenty-ninth year of the reign of King Charles II., and this deed also contains the king's grant to the Duke of York, which grant was made in the sixteenth year of his reign, for all land described as follows: Lying adjacent to New England, and also lying northward of Long Island and Manhattan Island; and bounded on the east by the main sea and part by Hudson river, and on the west by Delaware bay and river to the main ocean and Cape May at the mouth of the Delaware Bay; and to the northward as far as the northmost branch of said river which is in 41 deg. 40 sec. of latitude, and crossing thence in a straight line to the Hudson river in 41 deg. of latitude, including all river, mines, fishing, hawking, hunting, and royalties. This grant is dated A. D. 1664. The deed is written on parchment in a large round hand, and is in two parts of about thirty inches square each, making together a deed thirty inches wide by sixty inches long. The signature of William Penn looks as plain as though it had just been written. It is in an entire state of preservation, with the exception of a few stains.

THERE are twenty female physicians in Berlin who are justly entitled to be called famous practitioners. They have amassed individually ample pecuniary means, it is said.

The Germans and Greeley.

It is quite certain now that neither the German Republicans nor the German Democrats will vote for Horace Greeley. All the really influential German papers of both parties—the New-Yorker Staats-Zeitung, the Criminal-Zeitung, the Boston Pioneer, the Philadelphia Freie Presse, the Baltimore Wecker, the Cincinnati Volksblatt, the Cincinnati Volksfreund, the Indianapolis Telegraph, the Chicago Staats-Zeitung, the St. Louis Anzeiger des Westens, the Missouri Staats-Zeitung, and the Louisville Volksblatt—are bitterly opposed to the candidates of the Cincinnati Convention. Only the St. Louis Westliche Post still sticks to Greeley and Brown, but it supports them with so little vigor, and with so wry a face, that its readers can easily see how disgusted it is with the Cincinnati ticket, and that it will hardly make many converts to it.

PROVIDE AGAINST DANGER

At this season all the great lines of travel begin to swarm with human beings intent on business or pleasure. Are these moving multitudes aware of the danger which ensues from drinking different varieties of water and breathing atmospheres to which their lungs are unaccustomed? Do they realize how important it is to be pre-armed with an antidote that will defend their systems from the evil consequences of such changes and from all the ailments and disturbances which arise from miasma so plentifully evolved from the soil at this period of the year? Such an antidote—certain in its protective operation and free from everything objectionable in its composition and flavor—has been for twenty years before the world. No instance can be adduced, during that period, in which Hostetter's Stomach Bitters has failed as an acclimating medicine, or as a preventive of the bodily ills to which the undefended system is liable in unhealthy localities.

A good appetite, perfect digestion, a vigorous condition of the nervous system, functional regularity, and a pure and active circulation, are the elements of health, and these signal blessings may be secured and perpetuated by the use of this powerful, yet harmless, vegetable tonic. Such is the experience of all who have ever taken it as a safeguard against the diseases which debility, irregularity and a morbid condition of the solids and fluids of the body are sure to invite.

Sickness of Forty Years' Duration Cured.

The cure related below is one of a very remarkable kind, on account of its long duration, and is well worthy of the attention of all those who may be afflicted with chronic disease of any kind, showing clearly that all such cases can be cured. It is that of Jacob Wagner, a respectable farmer, aged 63 years, of New Sewickley township, who has been in gradually failing health for a period of about forty years. The disease manifested itself by a continued cough and a wasting state of health, which, about the beginning of last October, culminated in an attack which showed that the lungs were becoming seriously affected. Mr. Wagner, in this state of his case, applied to Dr. Keyser, of this city, who, by a system of medicine of a restorative kind, has completely cured him and restored him to a state of health to which he has been a stranger for many long and weary years. His cure is thorough and complete, and evinces an amount of skill and perseverance in the treatment of such cases, by Dr. Keyser, which is rarely if ever attained in a life time. The cure was chiefly effected by Dr. Keyser's Lung Cure, and is another of the many instances of the wonderful restorative power of that medicine, in the cure of every disease of long standing, especially those in which the pulmonary organs and the blood are deteriorated.

Dr. Keyser's office is at 167 Liberty street, in the rear of his Drug Store, from 10 A. M. until 1 P. M., and from 3 until 6 P. M., and on Saturday's at night.

The Gardner Fire Extinguisher.

The Ed. Journal of the Franklin Institute, April, 1872, says: "The Gardner Extinguisher seems to us to be well worthy of commendation, inasmuch as it combines all the good qualities of other machines with the special advantages of greater convenience of form, security of the stop-cocks from the action of the materials employed and of the perfect control of the stream of gas, and we can indorse it as the most practical of any yet made public."

The Gardner is rapidly superseding the old-fashioned extinguishers.

DAILY GAZETTE.

FINANCE AND TRADE.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, WEDNESDAY, May 22, 1872.

The local demand for loans to-day was about the same that it has been for a week past, and the means at the banks were fully adequate to meet it.

As the season advances, the prospect grows more cheerful; the fine showers of the past few days, gives promise that the crops although retarded by the lateness of Spring, and for which great fears were a short time ago expressed, will be abundant enough for our own people, and some to spare for exporting. The coal men seem to feel better, and are in hopes of getting other large floats to the markets below, before the hot days of summer. There is still a large lot of lumber up the Allegheny and its tributaries, ready for shipment; a rise that would enable the owners of it to get their product to market, would not only benefit them, but would also stimulate improvement, which has to some extent been held back, on account of the scarcity and high price of lumber. Gold is again advancing, it having to-day reached 14 per cent. premium, and as we have already remarked, should no undue influence be put forth to retard it, gold will continue to advance, until it reaches a much higher figure than it has touched to-day.

The imports into New York last week reached ten and three-quarter millions dollars gold value, and it is fair to presume that the other ports made up half as much more, which would at a rough estimate, foot up sixteen millions for the week, at the rate of about nine hundred million a year. The amount of gold that has left our ports for those of Europe during the last two weeks, amounts to seven and a half millions. It will take but a short time at this rate to export all our gold.

Stocks rather quiet to-day, except Pacific Mail, which, under heavy hammering by bears and realizations, fell from 88¾ to 80½, recovering to 81⅝ at the close. The course of this stock affected the rest of the speculative list, which fell generally ⅛ to 1 per cent. The market finally became more active and closed strong.

PITTSBURGH MARKETS.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, WEDNESDAY, May 22, 1872.

ASHES.—Soda Ash is quoted at 4¾ to 5 for common; refined, 5½@6; nitrate, 5 to 5¼; pots, 10; pearls, 11.

APPLES.—The receipts continue light but the supply is fully equal to the demand, which is very light, in consequence of the liberal supply of vegetables and the high prices at which they are held; we continue to quote at $5 to $6 per bbl for fair to choice.

BUTTER.—Is in fair supply and the receipts continue liberal, but prices are still maintained; prime to choice roll, 23 to 25; solid packed, 18 to 22; grease butter, 11 to 12, according to condition.

BEANS.—The stock in this market is very much reduced and prices are firm but unchanged; we are reported sales, in small lots, at $2,50 to $3,25 per bushel, as to quality.

BROOM CORN.—Is as dull as ever, but there is no change in prices; we continue to quote at 5 to 8 cts ℔ ℔.

CHEESE.—Is in good supply but prices are unchanged; Dairy, 12 to 12½; Factory, 13½ to 14; Goshen, 14½@15.

CARBON OIL.—Is quiet and nominally unchanged; 19½@20 cts by the car load, and 2@3 cts additional for smaller lots.

COUNTRY BACON.—Shoulders, 4½ to 5; Clear Sides, 6 to 6¼; Hams, 8 to 9. Country Lard, 7 to 8 cts, according to quality and condition.

CONCENTRATED LYE.—$5,50 ℔ case.

CANNED GOODS.—Peaches (3 lb cans) $6.00 to $7 per case; Tomatoes $4,50@5; Corn, $5,50@7,00, according to quality and brand.

CEMENT.—Louisville $2,50 to $2,75; Calcined Plaster $4,50; Cleveland white Lime, $2; eastern, $1,75.

DRIED FRUIT.—Peaches continue dull but unchanged; halves, 9 to 9½; mixed, 7 to 8; quarters; 6 to 7; peeled, 15 to 20. Apples in demand, and the supply, especially for anything good, is very much reduced; we continue to quote at 8 to 10 cents for medium to prime. Blackberries, 16 to 17; pitted Cherries, 27 to 30; unpitted, 6 to 8.

EGGS.—The market is firmer in consequence of diminished receipts, and we now quote at 14 to 15 cts—as yet but few sales above 14.

FEATHERS.—No. 1 quoted at 75 wholesale, and 80 to 85 in a small way. Mixed Stock, 40 to 60 cts, according to quality.

FLOUR.—Is steady with a fair local trade, but prices are unchanged; we continue to quote, in a jobbing way, at $8,75 to $9,25 for fair to choice spring wheat, and $9,50 to $10 for red winter wheat. Rye Flour, $5,75 to $6.

GRAIN.—The receipts and offerings of wheat continue very meagre, and the mills are taking all the Winter that offers, within the range of our quotations, $2,10 to $2,15 for red, and $2,20 to $2,25 for white. Spring wheat is not as eagerly sought for as it was a few weeks ago, for the reason that it does not give satisfaction to millers in this section of the country—they cannot, it is said, make good flour out of it. There is a fair demand for Oats, and the market is steady, but unchanged; sales at 54 to 56, for mixed to prime white—dealers generally report that it is very difficult over 55, no matter how good. Shelled Corn continues scarce, but the demand, is not, apparently, as brisk as it was a few days ago; we continue to quote at 68 to 70cts. There is little or nothing doing in Ear Corn. Rye is still quoted at $1 to $1,05. Barley—season over—not enough doing to establish quotations.

GROCERIES.—Coffee continues as strong as ever at the seaboard, and the tendency is still upward; the importers feel that they are masters of the situation, and for some days past, they have been "bulling" the market pretty lively—advancing prices from a half to one cent per day. But there is a limit to this, as in everything else, and once they cross that point, the market will take a turn the other way again. Of course, there is more Coffee changing hands than there was prior to the advance, but the indications are that there will be no general activity until after July 1st. Sugars are easier, and refined goods are back to to where they were prior to the recent advance.

REFINED SUGARS. — Standard Hards, 13; A Coffee, 12; B, 11¾; Ex C, 11⅝; C Yellow and Circle C, 11¼. These quotations are for straight brands.

COFFEE.—Rio—Choice, 25@25¼; Prime, 24@24¼; Good, 23¼; Fair, 23. Java, 28. Roasted, pure, 28; lower grades, 25@26.

RAW SUGARS.—Choice New Orleans, 11@11¼; Prime, 10¾; Good, 10; Fair, 9¼. Choice Porto Rico, 10½; Prime, 10¼. Demerara—Choice, 11¾; Good, 11¼.

NEW ORLEANS MOLASSES.—Choice, 80; Prime, 75; Good, 75; Fair, 65.

SYRUPS.—Fancy White Drips, 70; White Honey, 60; Havemeyer & Elder's, 60@62; other grades, from 40@50.

RICE.—Carolina—Choice, 9½; Prime, 9¼; Good, 9. Rangoon, 8@8¼. Patna, 8½@9.

SPICES.—Grain Pepper, 24; do Pimento, 16; Cassia, 50; Cloves, 25; Nutmegs, $1,25.

HAY.—Is in fair supply, but with a steady demand, prices are fully sustained; we are reported regular sales of baled, by the car load, at $28 to $32 per ton, according to quality.

OILS.—No. 1, extra lard oil is quoted, in a jobbing way, at 78@80 and No. 2 at 60 to 62.

POTATOES.—There is no improvement to note in the demand, and with liberal receipts, stocks are accumulating, and dealers generally anxious to realize, the market is very dull, and prices drooping; we now quote at 60 to 70 cents per bushel, for small lots, according to quality.

POULTRY.—Live Chickens may be quoted at 75 to 85 cts per pair, by the coop.

PEA NUTS.—Sales at 8¼@9cts per lb.

PROVISIONS.—Plain shoulders, 6¼cts; sugar cured do, 6cts; ribbed sides, 8cts; clear rib, 8¼cts; clear, 9cts. Breakfast Bacon, 10¼@11cts; plain sugar cured hams, 12; do, canvased, 12¼. Lard; in tierces, 9¾; in kegs, 11¼; in buckets, 11¼. Mess Pork, $15. Dried Beef, 17¾. Ham sausage, 10.

RAGS.—Sales at 4@4¼cts per lb.

SALT.—Is still quoted at $1,85 per bbl by the car load, and $2 in a jobbing way.

SEEDS.—Flax Seed is scarce, and in demand $1,90 to $1,95. There is little or nothing doing in Clover or Timothy Seeds, and we omit quotations.

TALLOW.—Rough 8¼@9cts

WHISKY.—Highwines firm but unchanged—92cts in a jobbing way.

LIVE STOCK MARKET.

CENTRAL STOCK YARDS, EAST LIBERTY, WEDNESDAY, May 22, 1872.

CATTLE.

The receipts were fair, and the offerings fully up to those of same time last week, and with an increased demand, the market has been active, and prices, especially for the medium grades, a shade higher—to-day at noon, there were very few in the pens unsold. In addition to the regular eastern shippers, there were quite a number of country buyers in attendance, and with a lively competition, trade was, as already noted, quite active, and holders experienced no difficulty in closing out all they had, and that, too, at full prices. The better grades changed hands at about last week's prices, while medium to good, in consequence of an increased demand for this particular kind, brought a shade more, and in addition, the latter sold more readily than the former.

Prime 1,200 to 1,300 steers may be quoted at 6¾ to 6⅞cts; and extra 1,400 at 7cts; good 1,000 to 1,100 steers, 6 to 6¼. Stock steers averaging from 800 to 1,000 lbs, quotable at 4½ to 5¼, according to quality and condition.

SHEEP.

The market was a shade easier to-day, in consequence of increased receipts and prices 12 to 15cts ℔ cwt lower; the arrivals thus far foot up about 55 cars, 50 cars of which changed hands, leaving, at noon to-day, five cars in the pens unsold; and the probability is that trade, at the slight decline above noted, will be good during the balance of the week, unless there should be largely increased receipts, of which there is not much prospect at this writing. We now quote (clipped) as follows: 95 to 100 lbs, 6¾ to 6¾; 75 to 80 lbs, 5¾ cts; 65 to 70 lbs, 5¼ to 5½. There are very few wool sheep offering, and there is scarcely enough doing in this grade to establish quotations. Lambs, averaging 45 to 60 lbs, quoted at from 8½ to 9½ cts ℔ ℔, and the receipts and offerings continue light.

HOGS.

There has been quite a reaction in the hog market within the past two days, and, with increased receipts and a diminished demand, prices, as compared with Saturday and Monday, are considerably lower. Philadelphia hogs cannot be quoted to-day above $4,70 to $4,80, against $5 to 5,10 on Saturday and Monday; and Yorkers have dropped from $4,80@5 on Saturday, to $4,25@4,35 to-day. Still hogs, of which several bunches changed hands, may be quoted at $4 to $4,10. Following embraces most of the sales since the date of our last report:

PETROLEUM MARKET.

OFFICE OF PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, WEDNESDAY, May 22, 1872.

Trade continues very quiet and the market, in a general way, presents but little that is new or important. Crude, as compared with yesterday, is a shade lower. Sales reported at $4, against $4,02½ on Tuesday. Refined—Spot, 23¼; May, 23⅜; June, 23¼@23⅜; July, 23¼.

According to late foreign circulars the stock of refined oil, at the five leading German ports, is some 20,000 to 25,000 bbls in excess of the same time last year. At Philadelphia and New York we have no data in regard to stocks, but, judging from the diminished shipments and productions, not only here, but elsewhere, it is fair to infer that they are less than at corresponding time last year.

Oil Barrels continue firm, and, with diminished stocks, prices are higher; we now quote city make at $1,80; country barrels, 10 to 12 cts less.

RIVER NEWS.

The river continues about stationary at this point, with 30 inches in the channel. Hopes are entertained of an early resumption of navigation, and indications are favorable.

There have been no arrivals or departures, aside from the slackwater packets, since the date of our last report, and business below the Monongahela bridge is virtually suspended. The Carrie Brooks is laid up at Wheeling waiting for water.

The Juniata was advertised to leave Cincinnati for this port on Tuesday, and if she did, it is hoped that there will be water enough on this end of the river, by the time she reaches it, to let her through.

Capt. Frank M'Cosh, an old Pittsburgher, but for some years past a resident of St. Louis, has assumed command of the steamer Victory.

Nearly every steamer leaving New Orleans has more or less railroad iron; when they can get nothing else they have this to fall back on.

—We clip the following from the Vicksburg Herald of the 18th: Capt. Blessing, Deputy United States Marshal, has had a warrant for the seizure of the steamer Carrie V. Kountz for some eleven months, she being required to answer a libel made against her by W. L. Crecy et al., for wages as laborers in pulling her off when she was aground in a chute somewhere above here in this district. He has been unable to get aboard of her until yesterday, when he boarded her on the point above town through assistance of a tug. Capt. A. H. Shaw, her commander, surrendered the boat and returned to this point and gave bond in the sum of $4,000 to answer the libel, the sureties upon which were Capt. A. D. Mattingly and Capt. A. H. Shaw himself.

—A Cairo telegram under date of Monday says: Business fair, and would have been rushing to-day, had not the rain interfered. The Thompson Dean is receiving steadily, and will leave for New Orleans as soon as she gets a load. Rates to New Orleans are 30 cents for flour, and 17½ cents for pound freight. Captain Frank McCosh has been appointed to the command of the Victory. The Cowan leaves to-day for Cairo with 5 barges ore. The ore belongs to W. H. Brown, and goes to Pittsburg. The John F. Tolle left yesterday for New Orleans with 15,000 bushels bulk grain, which is the first freight of the kind ever taken South by boat.

—The New Orleans Picayune, of Friday, says: The Bee, which met with an accident on Wednesday, we are informed, has lately been repaired all through with new engines, &c., at an expense of $15,000. She was inspected at St. Louis, and was on her second trip at the time of the accident. We are also informed that she had only 135 lbs steam, which is not the amount she is allowed by law. The repairs to the Bee will be finished in time for her to resume her trip to St. Louis to-morrow.

—In view of all the circumstances, we think that the investigation which Captain Houston challenges, in the card which we publish below, would be peculiarly right and proper: LOUISVILLE, KY., May 17, 1872.—In reply to the article which appears in the river column of your paper, this morning, referring to the Falls City-Garrett collision, and my decision thereon, please state that I challenge an investigation.

SAM'L HOUSTON, Supt. Ins. Sixth Dist.

—Louisville Courier.

—The Emma Elliott, after a brief but somewhat brilliant career in the Memphis and Cincinnati trade, has laid up at Memphis, and the Tyrone of the Nashville packet line is keeping the Jno. Lumsden company, in her solitude at Cairo.

—The steamer Bardstown, which went from St. Louis to Texas by way of Bayou Teche a year or so since, has been financially a failure, and she has been attached at Galveston for more than she is worth.

—Saturday's Chattanooga Times says: A number of new barges are being constructed below Handman's mill by the Government, which will be used in removing the obstructions on the river at Ross Tow-Head, &c.

—John E. Mix, a native of Wheeling, and a well known steamboatman, died at Cincinnati on Monday. He leaves a wife and three children.

—The Ruby has quit the Louisville and Madison trade, and gone to Tennessee River.

Infanticide.

Information was received at the lock-up last night of a supposed case of infanticide. The informant was Lieutenant Irwin of the police force, who states that last evening the body of an infant was found floating in the river near Etna borough with a rope around its neck. The body was taken charge of by the police and removed to the 17th ward station house. As yet no clue has been discovered which would lead to the identification of the dead child. The case has been placed in the hands of the Mayor's detectives and further developments may be expected to-day.

Municipal Business.

The Street Committee of Councils met yesterday; a full attendance being present. The committee agreed to recommend Councils to pass ordinances authorizing a sewer on Seventh avenue; the grading and paving of Shingiss street, Cedar alley and Spruce alley, and also giving authority to the Pittsburgh and Ormsby Railroad Company to construct a turn-table at the corner of Fourth avenue and Market street.

The Council Committee on Retrenchment and Reform also met and considered matters connected with the City Engineer's office. No action of a definite character was taken.

Fatal Accident.

About three o'clock yesterday afternoon a sad accident occurred on Penn street, near Fourteenth, which resulted fatally. At the time mentioned the street was unusually crowded with teams, and the deceased attempted to cross the street in front of a heavily laden iron wagon. The horses were moving at a slow trot, and he was struck by one of the horses and knocked down. Before the wagon could stopped one of the wheels had passed over his neck, killing him almost instantly. The deceased was only about eight years of age, and colored. We were unable to learn his name though it is said by those who had known him that he would answer to the name of "Fido."

Non-payment of Dramatic Tax.

Shortly before six o'clock last evening, Mr. Henry W. Williams was arrested by an officer of the United States Court, on a charge of non-payment of dramatic tax, amounting to $180, and taken before District Attorney Swoope. The complainant was Collector Thomas W. Davis, and the defendant will be remembered was the manager of the old Pittsburgh Theatre in its balmiest and best days. The tax was incurred, as alleged, during his management, and has never been paid. Mr. Williams gave bail for his appearance for trial, and was discharged. The defendant is in this city on a bench warrant issued in order to secure his attendance as a witness in a civil suit now pending in one of the courts.

The Torrens Station Shooting.

Yesterday morning the GAZETTE contained an exclusive statement of a serious shooting affray at Torrens Station. It now appears that McLaughlin, the man who was shot, was accompanied in his visit to McGurk's saloon by one Eiselman. Both men seem to have been without funds, and after receiving drinks to have refused to pay for them. McGurk incensed by this conduct, drew a pistol and commenced shooting. One ball struck McLaughlin in the shoulder, and, as the doctor thinks, glanced to a lodging place in the ribs.

McGurk yesterday surrendered himself to Deputy Mayor Phillips. It is thought McLaughlin will soon recover from the effects of his woudds.

"Big Injuns."

Twenty-eight members of the Sioux tribe of Indians passed through this city on Tuesday en route to Washington. The delegation consisted of Red Cloud and Red Dog, leading chiefs; Little Wound, Blue Horse, High Wolf, chiefs; Fast Bull, Little Wolf, Red Fox; Afraid-of-the-eagle, Good Buffalo, Thunder Hawk, Red Leaf, Hawkeagle, Two Elk, Big Foot, Lone Wolf, Poor Elk, High Bear, Daylight, Stabber, Blue Shield, Carry-crow-on-his-head, Hard Heart, Cayotte, Dirt Face, head of the Ongallala band. Lone Wolf is accompanied by his favorite wife, "Ear of Corn," and Big Foot with his squaw, White Jenney. The object of their visit to the "Great Father" is understood to apoloize for outrages committed by the tribe in March last.

John Smith Pardoned.

In 1864 John Smith, a poor friendless and unfortunate man, was wandering through Washington county, Pa., with no money and scarcely food enough to prevent starvation. To furnish him with the necessary sustenance he took a small sum of money from a village post-office in that county. For this vile offense against the Government he was sentenced to ten years imprisonment and hard labor in the Western Penitentiary. After spending eight long years at close confinement and hard labor his case was mentioned to President Grant, who, after learning of the particulars of his conviction, granted his pardon. Eight years of hard labor seem a fearful punishment for so small an offence, and President Grant did a noble deed in saving the poor man two years of confinement.

Temperance Alliance.

A special meeting of the Allegheny County Temperance Alliance, was held at their room corner of Penn and Sixth street, at eleven o'clock yesterday morning. Quite a number of our clergymen and other gentlemen from various parts of the county were present, and manifested a great interest in the work of the association.

Arrangements were made for the organization of several auxiliary societies during this and the coming week. On May 23rd, an organization will be effected in the Second ward, Allegheny, at the Fourth U. P. Church, Rev. W. Fulton, pastor. On Monday, May 27th, at the First Methodist Church, Union avenue, near Ohio street, and on Tuesday, at Fifth U. P. Church, corner Washington and Webster street, this city, Rev. S. B. Reed, pastor. Good speakers will be present at all the above named meetings, and a cordial invitation is extended to all to be present at half-past seven o'clock.

The Cadet Examination.

The following letter was yesterday received from General Negley by Professor Woods, the Chairman of the Commission appointed to conduct the competitive examination of candidates for admission as cadets to West Point and Annapolis:

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 20, 1872.

Professor George Woods, Chairman of Commission, etc.—My Dear Sir: I have conferred the nomination for the vacant cadetship at the U. S. Military Academy to Master E. E. Dravo, according to the grade of merit you have designated in your report.

Also, I have nominated Harry C. Gearing for appointment as Cadet Midshipman in the United States Navy, he having received the highest mark of merit in your examination.

Please hand to him the enclosed notice of appointment, with my best wishes for advancement.

Yours, very truly,

JAMES S. NEGLEY.

Master Gearing, we believe, is the son of a box maker in Birmingham.

Death of Mr. James Townley.

Many of our older citizens will mingle their griefs with those of his family at the death of Mr. Townley, which took place at his residence, No. 37 Esplanade street, Allegheny, on Tuesday, the 21st inst., at eleven o'clock, P. M. Mr. Townley was a native of Ireland; came to Pittsburgh in 1824; first engaged in the store of the late Geo. W. Jackson, Esq.; was afterwards for some time in the postoffice with the late Wm. Eichbaum, Esq., and subsequently engaged and for many years continued in the grocery business near the head of Wood street. About eight years ago he was obliged, by a troublesome chronic disease, wholly to retire from business, and since then has rarely been able to leave his house. He has at times been a great sufferer, but maintained a happy and submissive temper, conscious that sooner or later his constitution must yield to the incurable malady. He contemplated his approaching end without perturbation or fear, in the full confidence of the Christian's hope and trust. He was in the seventy-third year of his age. The funeral services will be held at three, P. M., this day, at Christ (Episcopal) Church, Union avenue, Allegheny.

Coroner's Inquest.

Yesterday morning Coroner West held an inquest on the body of Cornelius O'Conner, who died on Tuesday morning from injuries received on Sunday. The deceased who was a laboring man resided in Pleasant Valley, Allegheny. He has for some time been a hard drinker, and on Saturday night went home very much intoxicated. On Sunday morning he went to a Catholic priest and "swore off" for a year. He was on his way home at about seven o'clock, and had to cross a plank over a little gutter, full of lime water and the drainage from slaughter houses. Being very nervous from his debauch, O'Conner slipped and fell into the gutter, and before he could get out had swallowed large quantities of lime water and slaughter house filth. He was assisted home, and immediately fainted. Subsequently he refused to have a physician called, and Tuesday morning died. His body presented a horrible spectacle, the lime water having caused the skin and flesh to decompose and pull off. The doctor who attended the deceased gave it as his opinion that death had been caused by excessive drinking and the swallowing of lime water. A verdict to this effect was rendered. O'Conner was an Irishman, fifty-five years of age and leaves a wife and eight small children in extreme poverty.

THE Directors of the Monongahela Insurance Company yesterday declared a dividend of one dollar and fifty cents per share out of the earnings of the last six months.

THE son of Jacob Shook who was injured on Tuesday by a car on the Ormsby Passenger Railway, was yesterday in a very critical condition, and it is feared that amputation of the injured limb may be necessary.

THE woman who was so badly burned by an oil explosion lately on Van Braam street, Mrs. Rahl, has been removed to Mercy Hospital. She is still in a very critical condition, and it is doubtful that she will recover.

A TEAMSTER was severely injured on Thursday night in Birmingham, by falling from his horse and being run over by a heavy iron wagon. The wheel passed over his head and stomach, inflicting severe injuries. He was removed to his home where he received medical attention.

THE Board of Health held a meeting on Tuesday afternoon. Nothing of importance was transacted, and the long report published in a morning paper was exceedingly uninteresting reading. When will this same Board do anything which will be of any importance to the public?

MR. H. MCBRIDE and his daughter met with a very remarkable escape from death on Tuesday afternoon, while driving in a buggy in East Liberty, when the horse became frightened, throwing the buggy down a very steep embankment. Fortunately both the occupants were uninjured.

THE VOLKSBLATT yesterday morning announced that Mr. R. D. McGonnigle, the Secretary of the Allegheny Poor Directors, had died very suddenly on Tuesday night. Mr. McGonnigle requests us to deny the assertion, and says that he is positive that nothing of the kind has taken place.

A LETTER was received yesterday by Chief of Police Irwin from Andrew Reagen of Harrisburg giving a description of a ward of his named Joseph Maloney, and asking for his arrest as a vagrant. Mr. Reagen states that Joseph has run away from home and that he will pay all expenses incurred for his arrest and retention.

THE erection of a new church has been commenced by a German Lutheran congregation, at the corner of Pride and Ann streets, Sixth Ward. The congregation formerly occupied the building on the corner of Grant street and Sixth avenue, which they lately sold. Messrs. Munn & Co. are the contractors of the new building.

THE puddlers of the Ohio Railway rolling mill at Cumberland are on a strike, demanding six dollars per ton. The proprietors have offered them $5.60, which they refuse to accept. The Superintendent has been ordered to run the mill as long as the ore on hand lasts, and then shut down. It is thought that the mill will have to close the latter part of this week.

A PARTY of roughs disturbed a public entertainment at East Liberty last week by throwing paper balls at persons in the audience, shouting and carrying on, to such an extent that many were obliged to leave the hall. Information was made against them, and four of them were arrested and fined the immense sum of three dollars each by Deputy Mayor Phillips.

A PUBLIC entertainment will be given this evening in the new School Building, on Liberty street, Allegheny, by the Fourth Ward Lyceum. A very excellent programme including music, readings, debate and lecture has been prepared. The entertainment will close with the production of one act of the Irish Drama "Handy Andy." An enjoyable time may be expected.

IT is of course impossible for many of the inhabitants of our thickly crowded city to have gardens of their own, but it is practicable for the majority to have window gardens, for no great amount of money is necessary to enjoy this luxury; indeed, the simplest taste, with the most trivial expense, can often vie in artistic effect with the results that have been drawn out of far longer purses than most people can command.

IT is now quite apparent that our former city editor, J. D. Ramsey, Esq., will be selected as the candidate of the Republican party for Assembly from this county. Mr. Ramsey is a thorough journalist, a sound lawyer and a gentlemen whose only fault is a too close tenacity to what he thinks is honorable and honest. He could never do wrong in any official capacity and his nomination and election to the Legislature would secure to us an able and upright member. We heartily wish he may succeed.

THE velocity of travel by rail and the wonderful invention of the magnetic telegraph have lost their novelty and now excite no astonishment in those who witness their accomplishments every day. But we have an instance in mind which surpasses the achievements of either great invention. We refer to a letter which was properly directed and stamped, and mailed in Pittsburgh, and arrived in Allegheny City in exactly five days! Think of the enterprise and velocity which Uncle Sam must exercise to carry a letter nearly a mile in five days.

A FINE new organ has been put in the new Lutheran church on Stockton avenue and Arch street, Allegheny, and a grand vocal and organ concert is announced to come off on to-morrow evening—this will test the tone and power of the organ and the acustics of the new church as well. By the way this sacred edifice, for which the congregation is largely indebted to the liberality of an opulent Market street merchant, is, in its exterior architecture and chaste, elegant and appropriate interior finish and adornment, one of the finest in either city.

THE famous race horse, "Longfellow" is on his way to "Long Branch" where he is to be matched against "Harry Bassett." His owner, John Harher, and four servants, travel along to take care of him. The party took a special car in which they will pass through without change. On the outside of the car was a piece of white canvas, upon which was lettered, "Longfellow on his way to Long Branch to meet his friend Harry Bassett." All along the line crowds have gathered at each station, and the progress of the racer is not unlike the march of a monarch.

A PROMINENT business firm of this city, who were generously prompt in remitting their contribution to the Somerset Relief Fund, yesterday received the annexed letter of thanks, which we publish in order to show that actual suffering and distress prevails in our pretty little neighboring town:

Gentlemen: We are in receipt of your kind contribution, forwarded for the relief of our stricken people, for which accept their heartfelt thanks. In any influence you may exert in their behalf, may the blessing of God rest upon you. No city or town in the country has ever been so sorely scourged. In proportion to our population it exceeds anything in history. Yours, truly,

D. WEYAND,
Chairman Relief Committee.

Grand Concert This Evening.

Commencing at 8 o'clock this evening at the Bellefield Public School Hall, near Oakland station, will be given a Grand Vocal and Instrumental Concert by the scholars of the Bellefield Union Sunday School, assisted by some of our best amateurs and under the leadership of Prof. Lawton.

The first part of the programme will be assigned to the scholars and will include "Festive Song," "My Home is There," "Will the Angels Come to Me," and other selections. In the second part will be given Quintette by Mrs. M. A. Woodward, Miss Annie King, Messrs. Lawton Robinson and Irwin. Flute Solo by Mr. Alex. Guthrie. "Duett, "The Hunters," by Misses Parker and King. Cornet Solo by Mr. Robert Vandevort. Solo "Alice," Mr. F. Diehl. "Johnny Schmoker" by the guests. "Our Glorious Home" by the scholars and other delight selections. The entire performances under such auspices, with such a diversified programme and with so many accomplished ladies and gentlemen assisting, cannot fail to be most interesting and attractive, let all lovers of children of music and of good music fill the hall this evening.

The Butchers' Association of Allegheny county have fixed on Friendship Grove as the place, and Wednesday, 29th May as the time for their first annual picnic. The Committee of Arrangements consists of Messrs. J. F. Beilstein, Wm. Hockenberger, John Hercherworther, Louis Kreiling, John Zeiling, Antoine Roathen and Lawrence Schlehlein. Under the supervision of such a committee the affair cannot fail to be a very complete and enjoyable one.

Horace Greeley doubtless expects to carry the country by a large majority. We think such a result very doubtful unless he buys his clothes at the popular establishment of Messrs. Urling, Follansbee & Co., southwest corner of Fifth avenue and Wood street. The crowds who have purchased outfits at this establishment came away pleased with neat fitting and elegant suits, which give satisfaction in every particular.

DECORATION DAY.

Proclamation by Mayor Blackmore.

The following communication was yesterday received by Mayor Blackmore in regard to a general suspension of business on decoration day from a committee appointed by the Grand Army of the Republic. Their suggestion has been readily complied with by his Honor, and we hope that all our citizens will comply with his request, as stated in his proclamation, and give at least one day to the perpetration of the memory of those gallant boys in blue, who so nobly laid down their lives that we might enjoy the blessings of a country, unsullied by slavery and unbroken by secession.

HEADQUARTERS GRAND ARMY OF THE REPUBLIC, PITTSBURGH, May 22, 1872.

Hon. James Blackmore, Mayor of Pittsburgh:

Mayor.

THE COURSE OF TRUE LOVE.

It Never Runs Smooth—An Irate Parent Illustrates the Truth of the Old Proverb.

A little incident occurred on last Tuesday evening in Allegheny which has afforded quite a delicate morsel for the sensation-loving inhabitants. A young gentleman named Brough had been paying his attentions to a daughter of Colonel Porter, who resides on Sampson street, much to the annoyance of the old gentleman, who, it seems, from some unknown cause, had taken quite an antipathy to the young gentleman. On the night in question Mr. Brough "called," with a horse and buggy, and the fond and loving couple enjoyed themselves as lovers do at stolen and romantic interviews, against the wishes of a stern parent. Upon the return of the couple they were met by the angry father, who was armed with a small six-shooter, and determined to put into execution his former threats. Upon approaching the house it is alleged, Brough stopped the buggy and was about assisting the young lady to alight when the irate parent approached and selected the young man as a mark for pistol practice. The lady, of course, immediately fainted and the young man after the first shot hastened to take his departure. Miss Porter was taken into a drug store close by, where she was soon restored to consciousness.

The affair has created quite a sensation in the neighborhood of its occurrence, and it is intimated by some that legal proceedings may follow, though no steps in that direction have yet been taken.

Meeting of the Grand Encampment of Pennsylvania—Interesting Statistics—Officers Elected—Monument Unveiling.

The annual session of the Grand Encampment of Pennsylvania was held Monday, at the Hall, North Sixth street, Philadelphia, Grand Patriarch James Bingham presiding. The reports of the Grand Patriarch and Grand Scribe were read, giving a very favorable account of the condition of this branch of the Order, showing that 198 Encampments exist in this jurisdiction, with a membership of 13,770. There has been an increase of 981 members since last year. The aggregate receipts from all the various Encampments in the State were $96,171.12, while the payments for the relief during the same period were $45,450.18. A large number of new members were admitted to membership in the Grand Encampment. Five hundred dollars were voted as a contribution to the sufferers by the fire in Somerset, Pa., the same to be distributed by the officers of the Encampment in the place.

The following elected and appointed officers were installed into their positions: Grand Patriarch, Augustus Pfaff, of No. 55, Philadelphia; Grand High Priest, James McGahey, of No. 24, Philadelphia; Senior Warden, John Curtis, of No. 17, Philadelphia; Junior Warden, Sullivan S. Child, of No. 10, Harrisburg; Scribe, James B. Nicholson, of No. 51, Philadelphia; Treasurer, John S. Heiss, of No. 24, Philadelphia; Grand Marshall, John Levergood, of No. 11, Lancaster; Grand Sentinel, Edward Jones, of No. 101, Philadelphia; and Grand Outside Sentinel, George C. Hoster, of No. 47, Philadelphia. The presiding officers appointed the following standing committees, which were confirmed: Committee on Credentials, State of the Order, Finance, and Printing.

The revised constitution and by-laws, besides rules of order of the Grand Encampment, as well as the constitution and rules of order of subordinate Encampments were adopted. The session was well attended, and considerable interest was manifested by the representatives in the business of the session.

This afternoon the ceremony of unveiling the monument erected at Mount Peace Cemetery, to the memory of the late Grand Secretary William Curtis, will take place with appropriate services, consisting of music, oration by P. G. Master John W. Stokes, singing of anthems, &c.

A Suicide or a Joke?

The Cumberland News of yesterday morning contains the following account of a supposed suicide:

Yesterday morning a "drop letter" was received by Mayor Platt through the postoffice. The letter is either the statement of an intended suicide, or else is an attempt to perpetrate a cruel joke. The letter, which we publish below, is dated on the 16th inst., although it was only received by the Mayor yesterday morning, there being no stamp placed upon it before it was deposited in the postoffice.

The letter is as follows, copied verbatim:

STABBING AFFRAY.

Two Men cut in the street—A mysterious Affair.

About half-past eleven o'clock last evening two men were found lying in front of Stahl's store, on Wylie street, near the corner of Sackett street. One of them named Samuel Allinder was bleeding very freely from a fearful gash in his neck. He had also received two other cuts about his head, though of a less serious nature. The other, named Thomas Ellis, was very severely stabbed under the right eye and bore slight marks of a knife in other parts of his body, though he was less seriously injured than Allinder. The clothes of both the men were cut in several places.

The men were taken into Abel's drug store, where Dr. Donnelly dressed their wounds. They were afterwards removed to the lock-up, but refused to give any information as to who had done the cutting. The affair remains in the most profound mystery, there being not the slightest clue to the would-be murderers. The wounds of Allendir are of a very serious nature, though with proper attention they may not prove fatal.

A remarkable fact of the cutting is the quietness with which it was accomplished. A gentleman standing within thirty yards of the men was not aware of the occurrence until several minutes arter it had transpired.

THE LATE BISHOP KINGSLEY.

A Monument to be Erected Over His Grave—Action of the Methodist General Conference.

The following item published in an eastern paper cannot but prove of public interest. The late Bishop Kingsley had a host of friends in this city who will be rejoiced to hear of this movement towards recognizing his personal merits: The other day in the Methodist General Conference, the special committee to erect a monument to Bishop Kingsley reported that he died last April two years ago in Beyrout, Syria; that his remains are interred in the Prussian Cemetery, at the base of the Lebanon, and that his grave remains unmarked to this day. It was, therefore, resolved to set apart a few moments to take up a collection of $750, which, together with a like sum already subscribed privately, will raise a neat, substantial monument over the deceased Bishop's grave. The New York Herald reports say that "Lewis Miller, of Pennsylvania, (Akron, Ohio, is meant) led off with $100," and very quickly $1,714 was given which together with the $750 already raised, makes a total of $2,454. The Erie delegation then gave the balance to make it $2,500. The response was so generous that by mutual consent the surplus was directed to go to the Bishop's family.

Amusements.

PITTSBURGH OPERA HOUSE.—Notwithstanding the successful run of the "Streets of New York" with Frank Mayo in the principal character, the piece will be withdrawn to-night in order for the management to produce the "Octoroon." This piece will be mounted in the most elaborate style. One scene alone—the Mississippi river by moonlight—from the brush of Mr. Arthur Palmer, should be sufficient inducement to fill the theatre to overflowing. We have never seen a more beautiful and complete specimen of the scenic art. Mr. Frank Mayo will portray the part of Uncle Pete, a character in which he is unapproachable, and Mr. Gotthold will appear as Salem Scudder. These two "stars" will be supported by the entire strength of the company. Such attractions cannot fail to secure the public interest.

ACADEMY OF MUSIC.—The splendid burlesque opera "Fortunio" was produced at this theater for the last time last night, before a crowded house. This evening "The Fair One with the Blonde Wig," will be produced. This burlesque is the best in Mrs. Oates' repertoire, and affords her, as well as her company, excellent opportunities for displaying her and their peculiar abilities. The piece abounds in good music, of which the magnificent quartette take full advantage. Mr. Hoyt, the scenic artist attached to the house, has painted several new and artistic scenes, and Manager Beamer has spared no expense to make the production a success. We bespeak for the talented little lady a full house.

MURDOCK.—The death of T. Buchanan Reed has called to mind the history of the inspiring poem, "Sheridan's Ride," and also the occasion of its being first recited in public by that popular and eloquent reader, James D. Murdock. Mr. Murdock was to speak at the Opera House, in Cincinnati, one evening in 1864, on the occasion of a great political meeting. On the afternoon of the meeting Murdock called upon Reed at his studio, and obtained his consent to write something for the meeting. He sat down for an hour to write, and that thrilling patriotic poem, "Sheridan's Ride" was the result.

That night Murdock appeared at the Opera House with the poem, which he read as he alone can read. The effect upon the audience was like magic. A patriotic thrill shot through every one in the house like a magnetic current.

This incident is mentioned merely to illustrate the power and influence of Mr. Murdock's eloquence. To night the Pittsburgh public will have an opportunity of hearing for themselves this truly eloquent reader. We trust that Library Hall will be crowded this evening, and promise that who are there will feel amply repaid.

The Pennsylvania Railroad Company and the Pittsburg Councils.

The Pennsylvania Railroad Company petition for the vacation of Grant street and Washington street. Council will be called on to decide, and the property owners on Liberty street have petitioned Council time and again for the removal of the tracks on Liberty street. Now let this be one of the conditions. And surely if ever there was a case in which the public good demanded the extinguishment of a franchise, it is the case presented by the present use of Liberty street as a freight railroad. The original design in establishing a depot on the water front of the city was, manifestly, to facilitate the trans-shipment of freight to and from the boats navigating the river. It was to connect the railroad with the river for the purpose of trade and travel. But in a recent correspondence between the President of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company and certain citizens on this subject, it was admitted that for "five years past" the depot at the foot of Liberty street has been used exclusively for "local city business." In other words, the river trade and travel which were to have been secured and accommodated, have ceased to exist, and the depot is solely a local depot for the city of Pittsburgh. The public exigency, therefore, that justified the original taking of the street no longer exists. In the meantime the increase and growth of population of the city have so crowded Liberty street as a thoroughfare, as to render its occupation for a freight railroad dangerous to life and property. It is true that travel on the street is not entirely prevented. A man may still squeeze himself along beside the track, or dodge across at the peril of his life, or wait at the expense of his business for long periods of time, and then make his way through the crowds of vehicles accumulated by the jam. But such a mode of using one of the principal streets of the city is not the mode designed by its original dedication to public use, or by the law of the Commonwealth adopting it as a public highway. It requires no argument to demonstrate that the free use of Liberty street by the public—a use without let or hindrance—cannot be had while it is at the same time used as a railroad for the passage of freight cars and locomotives. The Councils has the power, and there can be no doubt as to its duty, to relieve the street of these obstructions, and restore it to the exclusive use of the people for whom it was intended. [Signed]

How is This?

Over $6,000,000 Sewing Machines for 1872.

Some of the Sewing Machine agents in our city have been continuously advertising the rate of increases in the manufacture of their particular Machine. These statements have induced us to ascertain which Machine actually has the largest per cent. of increase, and we find, from the sworn statements of all the companies, that the new Under-feet Sewing Machine's manufacture in 1871 was an increase over 1870 of 4100 per cent., the most wonderful increase ever recorded in the world. If the Wilson's manufacture increases at same rate in 1872, they will manufacture over $6,000,000 Sewing Machines this year.

If an article is to be judged by its popularity the Wilson Sewing Machine is certainly ahead of all competitors, as all the other companies' increase combined does not reach one-half 4,100 per cent.. We would advise our readers to call and see a Machine that can achieve such wonders, at No. 14 Sixth street. Sold complete for $50, and warranted for five years.

The History of a National Remedy.—Here is the history of the most celebrated tonic of the age in a nutshell. In 1860 it was announced that a certain combination of vegetable ingredients, with a pure diffusive stimulant, was working wonders in the cure of chronic dyspepsia, nervous debility, liver complaint, periodical fevers, rheumatism and constitutional weakness. The unpretending name gave to the specific was PLANTATION BITTERS. The statement attracted the attention of invalids everywhere. The new remedy received a fair trial, and the results more than confirmed all that had been said in its praise. Thence forward it was a grand success. The business columns of the press spread the glorious news far and wide, and the martyrs to indigestion, billiousness, physical prostration and premature decay, as if by common consent, sought relief from the new vegetable restorative. They found what they sought. From that time to the present the increase in the demand for Plantation Bitters has been one of the most striking events in this age.
